$50,000 FIRE DAMAGE AT B.C. OIL TANK FARM

WILLIAMS LAKE, B.C. (CP) — Damage was estimated at $50,000 today as battling volunteer firemen kept an oil tank farm blaze confined amid thousands of gallons of volatile fuel.

The 20 volunteers confined the blaze to the office and warehouse of Standard Oil Ltd., and part of the British-American Oil Co. Ltd. agency.

The wrecked Standard agency is surrounded by four 12,000-gallon tanks and one of 16,000-gallon capacity. All were afire at some time during the blaze. They contain gasoline, diesel fuel and furnace fuel.

IN GAS LOAN DEBATE

Liberal 'Experts' Fail CCF'er Knowles

OTTAWA (CP) — Stanley Knowles, ardent CCF student of parliamentary rules, Thursday used the actions and words of four prominent Liberals as the main bulwark of his arguments in a procedural fight with the Liberal government on the pipeline issue.

He leaned on former prime minister Mackenzie King, Commons Speaker Rene Beaudoin, Finance Minister Harris and Hon. J. L. Lesley, former finance minister.

The nimble-witted member for Winnipeg North Centre, in his element with a stack of rule books and precedents on his desk and a procedural battle raging around him, said "one could hardly find better authority" than this "company of the elect."

He described the late Mr. King as "that master of parliamentary finesse" who was very astute about procedure and took no chances that the Commons might block any measure he was anxious to get through the House.

Mr. Knowles' argument did not, however, sway Mr. Beaudoin.

The Speaker replied, in effect, that the previous cases were not of a parallel nature and that the government was following proper procedure.

Trade Minister Howe sent a few gruff retorts back across the Commons floor.

He spoke about "smart boys in the front row opposite" and added: "I wonder if citizens sending these gentlemen to the House are getting their money's worth."

Labor Gains

LONDON (Reuters) — Results of municipal elections throughout Britain today showed a strong swing toward the Labor party, which claimed a net gain of 213 seats in the town councils of England and Wales, and 57 more in rural and urban districts.

U.K. COAL BOARD FIRES 1,000 GO-SLOW MINERS

CARDIFF, Wales (Reuters) — One thousand go-slow Welsh miners will be fired today because of their long record of indiscipline in two collieries in Swansea Valley.

The National Coal Board, which runs Britain's state-owned mines, has decided to close down and dismantle the pits, which operated at a £405,000 loss last year. The pits will stop work May 26.

The men went back to work only Thursday after being on strike since April 24 following the dismissal of two men alleged to have "gone slow."

Bonner Promises Full Riot Probe

Oakalla Will Be Maximum Security Prison on Completion of Haney Project

Attorney-General Robert Bonner has ordered a complete report on Monday's incident at Oakalla Prison Farm in which a guard's life was threatened by three desperate prisoners.

Mr. Bonner returned to his office today following a safety conference in the east.

Mr. Bonner said that if the report contains recommendations to be followed to prevent such an incident occurring in future, "they will be announced."

Investigation of the disturbance has been started at Vancouver by deputy attorney-general Alan Maclean.

Mr. Maclean Thursday night interviewed a city detective whose name police would not disclose.

AT PRISON TODAY

It was not known if the deputy attorney-general would talk to the three convicts, Robert Tremblay and Marcel Frenette now are held in death cells for maximum security and Charles Talbot has been moved to another cell in the west wing where the disturbance occurred.

The three prisoners, sentenced to 20 years' imprisonment for their part in the beating of drug peddler Thomas Kinna at False Creek Flats, held Loveless for six hours, with a razor at his throat, until fast-talking prison officials and newspaper editor Bruce Larsen bargained for his freedom.

The trio were seeking a review of their case, which was promised by Mr. Maclean as part of the bargain.

Mr. Bonner said he would not discuss the possibility of criminal charges being laid against the three prisoners as a result of the incident. But he said laying of any charges would be the responsibility of this department.

He said Oakalla prison will be turned into a maximum security prison with the completion of the new Haney correctional institution early in 1957.

H-Bomb Jet Crashes In England

SHOREHAM, England (AP) — A four-engine Vickers Valiant jet, Britain's new H-bomb carrier, crashed near this coastal town today. Three of its four crew members were reported missing and believed dead.

Police said the co-pilot, who was not identified by name, parachuted from the plane and was taken to a hospital. Six persons on the ground were slightly injured by flying debris.

The Vickers Valiant is one of the RAF's hush-hush "V" planes designed to pack a nuclear wallop in wartime.

The ministry of supply, which has authority over the plane, said in London its only information was that a Valiant had crashed.

Strike Slows Grain Flow

By British United Press

A mushrooming seamen's strike slowly began crippling Canada's vital Great Lakes shipping fleet today while federal mediator H. Carl Goldenberg pleaded with the companies and unions to "re-assess their positions."

Nearly half of some 60 ships operated by two firms bobbed at their berths in a 1,000-mile area between Montreal and the Lakehead while their crews waited ashore for developments.

Grain-handling officials worried that elevators already two-thirds full with 50 million bushels of grain soon would become jammed and grain brought to them by rail would have to be dumped outside.

Churchill Proposal Too Early But Britain Backs Alliance

LONDON (AP) — The government made plain today it believes closer Russian ties with the Atlantic pact—suggested by Sir Winston Churchill—are beyond achievement at this time.

Authorized officials told reporters Britain certainly subscribes to the former prime minister's concept of an ultimate "grand alliance" between all the states of Europe, the Commonwealth and the United States.

But—as Churchill did—they emphasized that the Western allies must first be sure that the Kremlin has dropped the Red dream of global domination in favor of aims the West could support.

The foreign office refused formally to comment on the views expressed by Churchill in Aachen, West Germany, Thursday, where he was awarded the Charlemagne Prize for services to European unity.

SURER BASIS

Officials explained British—and Allied—policy now is to give first place to the achievement of German reunification. That would provide a surer basis on which to build up the all-inclusive system of security.

The one London newspaper to comment on the Churchill speech, The Daily Telegraph, said of the grand alliance concept: "The one question that springs to mind at once is—how soon? To include Russia . . . now would clearly be to destroy it . . . If and when Russia proves herself to have renounced world domination, not for reasons of short-term expediency, but truly and genuinely, then NATO would no longer be the 'main theme' of our salvation."

WASHINGTON (Reuters) — The state department in a statement today said the United States "welcomes the spirit and substance" of Sir Winston Churchill's speech on Thursday at Aachen, West Germany.

It noted Sir Winston had said that "if" the Russian repudiation of Stalin were sincere there was a new Russia to deal with, and if so there was no reason why it should not join in the spirit of the North Atlantic Treaty to fight the aggressor whoever he may be.

This suggestion, the statement said, "is in accord with the proposal which the three Western foreign ministers made to the Soviet Union at Geneva Oct. 27, 1955, during the consideration of the linked problems of European security and the reunification of Germany."

"This proposal has never been accepted by the Soviet Union even as a basis for discussion."

'Life for Life' Reprisal Follows Hanging of Rebels

(UP, AP and Reuters Dispatches)

NICOSIA, Cyprus—The pro-Greek terrorist underground leader announced today he had hanged two British soldiers in a life-for-a-life reprisal against the British execution of two Cypriot gunmen.

Shortly afterwards, a Cypriot youth handing out leaflets announcing the reprisal executions was shot and killed in Nicosia's main square. Violence also flared elsewhere on the island.

The leaflets gave the names of the soldiers as Cpl. Gordon Hill and Cpl. Ronnie Shilton. The leaflets said: "These two men, our prisoners since November, 1955, and April, 1956, respectively, were hanged as a necessary reprisal for the judicial murder of Michael Karamolis and Andreas Demetriou, prisoners and victims of British military dictatorship on this Greek island."

British army authorities reported Hill missing last December, but scoffed at reports by the EOKA that they held him as a hostage. His mother several months ago wrote to the Queen asking that authorities negotiate for his release.

Shilton was reported missing last month. There had been no previous EOKA claims about him.

His statement said the leaflets contained inaccuracies. It added there never had been "the slightest evidence" the two soldiers had been captured. It said the leaflets were "patently an attempt" at propaganda.

The terrorist leaflets were signed by "Digenis," reputed underground leader for whose capture the British authorities have offered $28,000 reward.

The leaflets said: "We do not hate British soldiers, but we are determined to be free. We are compelled to use for our freedom the same means that are used by the occupation forces for its suppression."

Field Marshal Sir John Harding, the British governor of Cyprus, issued an official statement indicating he did not believe the underground claim.

The British were shocked and angered by the reported terrorist hangings. They swiftly tightened security measures on this troubled Mediterranean island.

Promising that "we shall answer hanging with hanging and torture with torture," the leaflets were passed out first this morning by children.

Then, this evening, a British sentry ordered two Cypriot youths to stop distributing the leaflets in Metaxas square in the heart of Nicosia. They ran. He shot one dead. The other escaped.

Violence flared elsewhere across the 120-mile island. At Ktima, a bomb was tossed at a British commando patrol. It fell short and injured a Greek Cypriot woman and another passerby.

The executions of the Cypriot youth sparked international repercussions today.

Greece proclaimed three days of official mourning and opposition party leaders in Athens launched an effort to topple the Greek government for its handling of the issue. In Athens Premier Karamanlis said Greece was "deeply wounded" by the executions.

On Crete workers walked off a construction project at a NATO airfield.

KNOW YOUR TEACHER

In the belief that parents of children attending schools in the Greater Victoria area are interested in knowing about personalities of the teachers who educate them, The Times continues a series of "Four Teachers" articles. The articles will appear three times a week. The Teachers Association is co-operating.

With nearly 40 years of teaching to her credit, Miss Ella Cameron, head of Victoria High School mathematics department, retires this year leaving a living monument of successful students at home and abroad.

Like Principal Harry Dee, Miss Cameron has been 29 years at Victoria High, longer than any other teacher on the staff.

The greatest highlight of her career is the success of Victoria High students, a tribute to the excellence of instruction offered.

She was born in Brandon, Man., but was raised and educated in Vancouver, taking Normal School training after high school. Miss Cameron also attended University of British Columbia before commencing her life's work in education in a one-room school in the Fraser Valley near Aldergrove.

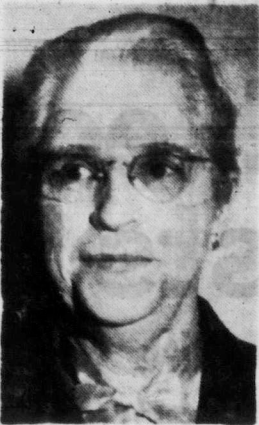

Returning to UBC, she obtained her BA degree, then taught six months in Vancouver elementary schools. Miss Cameron moved to Bridgeport High, then went to Chilliwack, where she taught three years.

Moving on to the Kootenay country, she taught school at Nelson for a while and from 1924-27 took a post at Nanaimo. She has been at Victoria High since then.

While her favorite subject is mathematics she has been always strongly interested in the theatre and earlier in her career would stay after school with pupils dramatically inclined to help them produce plays.

Travel, too, captured her imagination and before the Second World War she had made two trips to Europe and visited Hawaii.

Miss Cameron's only other duty on the school staff is sponsorship of the scholarship program, and she urges students to go in for scholarship-winning work.

The modest, quiet-spoken but assured woman has little time for hobbies since many of her evenings are taken up in paper marking, but she enjoys reading and is very fond of the outdoors.

A quiet walk in the woods is one of her most enjoyable pastimes, and after school closing next month she will have plenty of opportunity.

Asked to comment on the students of today compared with those of a generation ago, she said:

"I think today's students are far better prepared to meet the world than those of the previous generation. And the best of the street from Beacon Hill students are still tops."

Miss Cameron lives across Park at 1030 Park Boulevard.

Government Will 'Stand or Fall' On Pipeline Bill

Prudham Sums Up Liberal Policy As Opposition Moves to Fray

WINNIPEG (CP) — Mines Minister Prudham says the government "will stand or fall" on getting the controversial loan to Trans-Canada Pipe Lines Ltd. through Parliament.

Interviewed in Winnipeg Thursday where he stopped over on his way to inspect mining developments at Red Lake, Ont., he described the natural gas pipeline issue as "a project that can't be delayed."

He did not say directly whether the federal cabinet would invoke closure, a little-used procedural motion to choke off debate, in an effort to prevent an opposition filibuster.

Meanwhile, in Ottawa, the filibuster was under way. Commons opponents of government financial aid to a private company's cross-Canada gas pipeline plan apparently are ready to use every tactical weapon in parliament's rule book in their fight.

Conservative and CCF parties Thursday threw up an unprecipitated array of procedural roadblocks, forcing four votes on the initial stage of a government measure to assist the $375,000,000 project of Trans-Canada Pipe Lines Ltd.

The Liberal majority, bolstered by Social Credit and independent members, won every vote.

But 2½ hours were spent in roll-call votes and procedural wrangling before the House took a normally routine step of ordering debate at a later date of a preliminary resolution by Trade Minister Howe. Debate is expected to start Monday.

Parliamentary observers could recall no occasion in their experience when that routine step was forced to a vote. Nor could they recall previous use of two technical delaying motions used Thursday, including one by Stanley Knowles (CCF, Winnipeg North Centre) that the Commons adjourn for the day.

First of Thursday's four votes was an opposition appeal against Speaker Rene Beaudoin's ruling that Mr. Howe's resolution was in order. The Speaker was upheld 144 to 62.

Then David Fulton (PC, Kamloops) and Mr. Knowles reached deep into their arsenal of procedural weapons.

Mr. Fulton came up with a technical motion calling, in effect, for the House to skip over the resolution and deal with other business. That was lost 146 to 62.

Two Quads Die DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Only two of the Dallas quadruplets prematurely born last week are alive following the death of a second one Wednesday night.

She was Marilyn Kay Hunter, who weighed only two pounds, 11 ounces at birth, April 30. Her younger sister by a few minutes, Melanie Faye, died Tuesday.

Chemainus Ball Club Wins Game by Default CHEMAINUS — Chemainus Red Sox, last year's Mid-Island League baseball champions, won their first start Wednesday when a scheduled game with Nanaimo was forfeited by the Nanaimo club and awarded to Chemainus.

League president Al Dyer awarded the game to Chemainus when it was found the Nanaimo playing field was not in condition for a game. Chemainus had previously dropped its opening two games to Alberni Athletics by scores of 6-4 and 7-3.

Thursday's cool weather cut the number of new fires reported to six, but 40 fires are still burning, under control, being patrolled by over 200 fire fighters, the majority of them employed by logging firms.

The forest service today added the fire toll during the first two weeks of the 1956 forest fire season—a total of 315 fires, which cost $7,342 to extinguish.

This compares with 56 fires at this time last year, and 144 in 1954.

Grace Heatherly Barwick, 2943 Bridge street, from Bruce Barwick, married Dec. 10, 1954, Victoria.

College Seeks Property For Expansion

Negotiating for Hudson's Bay Land

Victoria College is seeking 34.3 acres of land adjoining the present college campus, to take care of future expansion.

Negotiations for the property—presently owned by the Hudson's Bay Company, and its historic "farm" site in Victoria—have been going on for almost a year. The Times learned today.

Judge Joseph Clearihue, an original member of the Victoria College student body and now chairman of the college council, which administers the affairs of the institution, today confirmed that negotiations have been going forward, but added:

"I am not at liberty to go into details at this stage. All I can say is that we hope to have an announcement soon, which will be of interest to all the friends of Victoria College."

Education Minister Ray Willison would not amplify the judge's remarks, except to point out that Victoria College was entering on new status in September this year, under an act of the legislature, and would undoubtedly expand.

(Prof. Robert Wallace said in a Rotary Club address Thursday that the college expected an enrollment of 718 this fall, against about 400 for the current term.)

BOARD SET UP

(Victoria College severs its connection with Greater Victoria School Board under the new act this fall, and will operate separately under its own college council, under grants from the provincial and federal governments.)

The Times learned today that an arbitration board has been created, to arrive at a fair price for the land between Victoria College and the Hudson's Bay Co.

Alan B. Macfarlane of Victoria is chairman, R. H. Shanks of B.C. Land and Investment Agency represents the HBC, and Lloyd McKenzie the college.

One unconfirmed report is that Judge Clearihue asked the Hudson's Bay Co. to make a gift of the property to the college, as a matter of community interest.

The company, however, has successfully developed a real-estate subdivision in the area and is said to be asking the "going rate" for the property.

(Lots in the district have been selling for $3,000 to $4,000 as part of a subdivision. This would make the total asking price of the Hudson's Bay Co. for the required property in the neighborhood of $100,000.)

Further complicating negotiations, the Times learned, is the stand of Oak Bay council, which has said that a $39,000 extension of Foul Bay road into the property, with sewers and other facilities, cannot be met by the municipality.

Hahn Backs B.C. Bid For Fraser Dike Aid

(From Times News Services)

George Hahn, Social Credit member for New Westminster, Thursday night supported the requests of the British Columbia government for federal assistance to dike projects on the Fraser River.

Mr. Hahn said federal engineers should be loaned to the Social Credit government of his province to do the engineering and survey work necessary for dikes to protect Fraser Valley farmlands from Fraser River floods.

Agriculture Minister Gardiner said that if the federal government's Prairie Farm Rehabilitation Administration has engineers not otherwise engaged it would lend their services to B.C. But the province and the municipalities involved in the projects would have to pay their salaries.

Mr. Gardiner, whose departmental estimates were under study, said dike projects are a provincial and municipal responsibility. Federal responsibility was limited to keeping navigable rivers such as the Fraser open to navigation.

Mr. Hahn said the "distressing" problem of dikeing the river at various flood points is a matter for federal-provincial-municipal co-operation, not for "passing the buck."

Three local dike boards on the lower B.C. mainland had spent almost $875,000 on dikes. The boards could not be blamed for seeking federal assistance.

He listed four plans to control damage to Fraser River banks: raising the banks by two to four feet; dredging; scraping the river bed and diversion of upland waters.

Transport Minister Marler finally got into it. He said the CNR, by making the agreement with the mine company, was only taking "an elementary precaution" to protect itself from loss.

Education Program to Fight Crime

An Alberta senator-educationist submitted Thursday that education offers the best method of tackling Canada's crime and penal problems.

Senator Donald Cameron, 53-year-old professor and adult educationist, said if he were minister of justice he would set up a public information bureau designed to educate the people. It would enlist the aid of community groups, newspapers, radio stations and other mediums in disseminating information not only for the prevention of crime but in the after-care and attitude toward those who had served prison terms.

"There is a very big educational job to be done," said Senator Cameron, director of the University of Alberta's extension department and the Banff school of fine arts.

He spoke in the continuing debate initiated in the Senate last month by Senator David Croll (L-Ontario), who called for a royal commission investigating Canada's penal system.

Senator Cameron did not agree.

He felt there already were too many commissions whose reports all too soon were forgotten. Money for such commission could be better spent on a carefully-organized program of public education, which would produce better and lasting results.

Senator Cameron said the best way to tackle crime prevention is to "educate the parents, community leaders and the general public on those institutions and attitudes in the community which tend to encourage departure from the normal standards of good conduct."

Moscow Claims Churchill Admits Nato Policy Fails

LONDON (Reuters)—Moscow radio said Thursday Sir Winston Churchill in his speech at Aachen "virtually admitted that the anti-Soviet and anti-peoples' democracy policy adopted by the members of NATO had lost out."

The Soviet news agency Tass said that "Churchill justified the creation of NATO and praised the 'achievements' of this military organization."

"At the same time, he admitted that in the light of the current policy of the U.S.S.R. and the people's democracies, the anti-Soviet orientation of NATO has lost any justification."

BONN (Reuters)—Sir Winston Churchill, the "grand old man of Europe" today continued on a round of official functions after his speech Thursday in Aachen, where he was awarded the West German city's Charlemagne Prize for furthering European unity.

The 81-year-old former prime minister, Nazi Germany's deadliest enemy, today called on Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and West German President Theodor Heuss after a visit to the mayors of Bad Godesberg and Bonn.

The Pipe Line

THE PARLIAMENTARY STAGE management of the Federal Government's gas pipeline project has been a sorry mess. But the Government's unhappy posture in the House of Commons should not be confused with the actual gas policy now under way.

As the experience of the last year has demonstrated, the difficulty underlying the Government's embarrassment is a fundamental economic difficulty which cannot be disguised by any conceivable plan to build an all-Canadian pipeline from Alberta to the St. Lawrence.

In pure economics any such scheme is unsound. The natural and easily-available market for Alberta gas is south of the border in the middle western States.

If the Government were willing to allow unlimited volumes of gas to flow into the United States it could arrange the construction of the necessary pipeline immediately. Many private companies would be only too glad to undertake this project.

But the Government, for historic national reasons, is determined to keep most of this gas within Canada, for the use of Canadians. That determination—which most Canadians share—is the root of all the Government's present troubles.

The policy of building an all-Canadian line and delivering gas in the metropolitan areas of Ontario and Quebec is costly—far more costly than a relatively short line into the populous middle western States. Moreover, the Canadian line must run through a barren and unprofitable region north of Lake Superior where there are few customers for gas.

Private enterprise in the form of the Trans-Canada Pipe Lines has found that it cannot build the all-Canadian line without the help of the state. First it persuaded the Federal and Ontario Governments to build the unprofitable section north of the Lakes. Even then it found that it could not finance the construction of the relatively cheap section from Alberta to Winnipeg.

Private capital would not invest in this business until it was assured that part of the gas—two hundred million cubic feet a day or two-fifths of the total flow—could enter the United States south of Winnipeg. No permit for this import has been issued by the Federal Power Commission.

sion in Washington and no one knows when it will rule on this question.

Meanwhile the Government had to decide whether it should delay the whole undertaking until private enterprise could finance it, or whether the national treasury should assist Trans-Canada to build the prairie section. It decided to loan Trans-Canada up to ninety per cent of the cost.

Without this assistance construction could not start this year. If the line is to reach Winnipeg before winter work must begin at the very latest on July 1, and therefore Parliament must act on the Government's policy by early June.

Hence the Government's haste, the sudden offer of a loan to Trans-Canada and the explosion of Opposition anger in Parliament.

The Opposition argues that the Government is subsidizing a company, mostly owned in the United States, with taxpayers' money. This, so far as it goes, is true and obviously, in the Government's mind, the present policy is only the least of many evils. No one likes this scheme as it stands. But what is the alternative?

No one but Trans-Canada can build the line this year for a simple but little-noted fact—namely, that only Trans-Canada owns enough pipe. There is literally no other sufficient supply of pipe in the world, Mr. Howe says, and none could be manufactured inside a year or two. Even if the Government undertook to build the line itself, as a publicly-owned utility, it could not begin to build within eighteen months at earliest.

If Trans-Canada again fails down on the scheme and does not repay the Government's loan by next spring, then the Government can either make a deal with another company—the pipe then being available in Canada—or can complete and operate the line itself. It has a complete mortgage over Trans-Canada's assets and, most important, over its pipe.

There are great objections to this scheme and the Opposition is rightly making them. But what would the Opposition parties do? How would they get the line built? And how, without any pipe available to anyone but Trans-Canada, could the Opposition get the scheme under way before 1958? Those questions have not been answered yet.

These All-Night Parties

MOST PARENTS WILL HEARTILY applaud the stand of five principals of Greater Victoria high schools against all-night, unchaperoned "coming out" parties after the graduation ball.

Nobody begrudges the teen-agers their fun, but a curfew of 1 or 2 a.m. does not seem unreasonable. Even that late hour—the closing-time of the recent Royal Roads dance—has caused considerable anguish to Victoria parents, who have had to wait up until 3, 4 or even 5 o'clock in the morning for adolescent daughters who have gone on to the local juke-box boogie for post-party festivities.

From the sheer health standpoint alone, the all-night graduation party is nonsense. The high school principals deserve the support of parents in the sensible stand they have taken.

Argentina Paints the Barn

REPORTS FROM ARGENTINA show a new concern for that country's farmers, long neglected by Peron. Government policy is trying to restore prosperity to the man on the land.

The response to the present fair deal for agriculture is strengthening the nation's entire economy. Since 90 per cent of the Argentine's exports consist of products of the farm, its importance is obvious.

Liberation in that country means not only escape from the police state of the former dictator. It also means an end of the ruinous economic policies he enforced.

Under the new political leadership the drift away from the land has been checked, agriculture has been modernized, new ground is being broken for planting, prices are rewarding the farmer and restoring respect for his way of life.

All this is highly gratifying. A robust and virile people is being reclaimed from Peronist oppression.

This encouraging picture is not, however, without certain overtones that should be recognized by North Americans. Argentina is an agricultural exporting nation—one that formerly held a big share of the British market.

On this side of the equator, the United States and Canada appreciate only too clearly how keen the competition for agricultural markets has become. As Argentina regains its health, the competition will be even stiffer.

Bad Fielding, Good Break

FOR SOME TIME TO COME ANALYSTS will be weighing incidents in the Bulganin-Khrushchev visit to London and giving to different occasions their own significance.

Mr. Peter Lyne, writing in The Christian Science Monitor, turns up an interesting finding on the Laborite dinner tendered to the Russians. That was the occasion when some of the British hosts asked their guests what they were doing to free Social Democrats imprisoned in Russia and satellite nations. Mr. Khrushchev's reply was, in effect, "You mind your business. We'll mind ours."

As Mr. Lyne puts it, "The exchanges got heated, and after that the party rather went to pieces."

The importance of the occasion, however, ran far deeper than a social rhu-barb.

"It was being said in Westminster," wrote Mr. Lyne, "that this event might have far-reaching results in restoring a more bipartisan British foreign policy and might considerably lessen the tendency of some British rank-and-file Socialists to blame the United States more than the U.S.S.R. for keeping up world tensions."

The British Laborites batted the imprisoned Social Democrats issue straight to Mr. Khrushchev. Mr. Khrushchev's fielding was extremely bad.

British Socialists, never a farm team for Russian communism, are now more clearly aware than ever of the fact that they don't play in the same league.

Switching Weapons

Chips

BY DAVID BROCK

I WAS reading a "think-piece" in one of the mainland papers. It said that if a person keeps busy, it may simply mean he is running away from himself. Well, I don't see what's so bad about running away from a person. I know lots of people I run busily away from. And if a guy has the sense to see that he himself is a good person to keep away from, then I give him full marks, plus a special banner with battle-honors. I have said it before and I will say it again: "Be yourself" is good advice for some people and rotten advice for others. If you're not a good person to be, then don't be it.

THE firm of Vance, Sanders & Co., in the U.S.A., has a company bulletin called Brevets (sounds like a small health-biscuit). Brevets says: "Sometimes it is difficult to keep in mind that the element of change is a primary characteristic of a growing country such as ours. Consider, for instance, that during the past ten years, 14,500,000 people have died."

(Don't die in other countries... other countries?) "Almost 17,000,000 marriages have taken place." (How many have almost taken place?) "Close to 36,000,000 babies have been born. Out of the 165,000,000 people in the U.S. today, over 70 per cent do not remember First World War. Forty-six per cent do not remember what conditions were like before Second World War. Forty per cent have never heard Russia referred to in any terms other than as an adversary. Fifty-three per cent do not have any personal recollection of what a major depression is like."

WELL, even if these figures are not accurate, I suppose they are a healthy reminder that the world is now peopled by a different bunch from the bunch a few years back. Slightly different. But surely it is even more interesting to remember that even while First World War was in progress, there were millions who didn't know what it was about, or in what year it began. It is true that nearly everybody nearly always forgets nearly everything, whether he is 9, or 39, or 69. But it is also true that even when a thing is happening, he isn't awfully good at giving you a clear account of it. Even professional historians can't tell you, most of them. So if a chap was born too late for any one event, he hasn't missed a thing, really.

As for the amazing fact that 40 per cent of the people in the U.S. have never heard of Russia in friendly terms, some of us remember another amazing fact, which was the Roosevelt-stimulated trust in Stalin and the boys, still going strong about a dozen years ago or less. We wouldn't be in half such a fix now if 100 per cent of the people of the West had never heard of Russia in friendly terms. And I do not mean simply the present government (if that is what you call it) of Russia. I mean a Russian tradition of superiority and destiny, a tradition of being different and masterful, which is a lot older than that. The warlords of Asia.

"SHAKE THE BAG"

A FRIEND of mine did her marketing and then dropped into a movie-house. She was embarrassed by her big brown paper sack, with tomatoes bulging out the top. (How rich she must be, to buy tomatoes. Rich to start with, if poor after buying them.) No matter where she put the darned bag on the floor, it seemed to be in everyone's way. All through the picture she thought about that bag. When the picture was over, an elderly woman rose from the seat which was next to her and the bag, and said "Thank you for making that film so enjoyable, my dear." My friend asked what on earth she meant. The woman said "You have exactly the right vibrations." To which my friend said faintly, "That wasn't vibrations, that was tomatoes."

KEEPING IN TOUCH

I KNOW two members of an organization who have adjacent offices but who are no longer on speaking terms. In order to have proof of keeping in touch with each other and of consulting each other, in spite of their private war, they correspond by registered mail. A registered letter leaves one office and next day it is delivered on the other side of the wall. I was telling a friend of mine about this, and he said that during the recent war one of the services had an establishment at the top of Scotland. Across the hall from each other were two very senior officers who were not on speaking terms. When they wished to communicate, each would telephone headquarters in London and request that a message be relayed at once to Scotland, to the chap across the hall.

FUNCTION

I HEARD the following pleasant bit of dialogue:

Wife, impatiently: "My goodness, aren't people stupid!"

Husband, resignedly: "Well, that's what they're there for, isn't it?"

That may sound a bit cynical, but I find it a great comfort. Makes me philosophical. Similarly it made me philosophical and patient when I once complained about a stupid and malevolent petty official, and an old uncle of mine said "Look, if he was any good he wouldn't be in that job at all. What right have you got to demand a saint or a genius in every job in the world?" On the other hand, what right has an uncle got to ask a nephew to be a saint or a philosopher? Sometimes I find it hard to be even Norman Vincent Peale.

Mr. Bennett's Job

On page 15 of your May 4 issue mention is made of Premier Bennett's current trip to Regina ending with the statement "The move is seen as the first entry into the expected 1956 provincial election campaign."

If that be correct, it may properly be asked whether the people of British Columbia, out of whose taxes Mr. Bennett's salary and expenses are paid, elected him to carry his politics to the other provinces of Canada, or is he not elected and paid to stay at home here and look after the profuse interests of the people he is sworn to serve?

What licence has he got to be meddling in the politics of, or interfering with the government of Saskatchewan or any other province while he is only elected and paid to head the affairs of B.C.?

Santa Vs Totems

If the methodical little boy, aged 11, who murdered parents and brother on account of "chastisement in the home" had not felt so sure and certain that no further corporal punishment awaited him after his crime was committed, depend on it, he would not have written so confidently and complacently of being sent to a reformatory.

There is nothing that can so easily deflate the self-confidence of a bumptious youngster, as the sure and certain prospect of what in the old days used to be inelegantly termed "a good licking."

"The trend to blame parents for troublesome children is outmoded; parents should be helped rather than criticized," says Dr. Laycock.

Parents, you've been "helped" for over thirty years with what result we all know. If you disapprove of corporal punishment or deprivation of a meal as a correctional, then feed the rebellious one nothing but plain bread for a day. This namby-pamby stuff is as disagreeable to write, as it would be for a brat to experience.

It's the disciplining of children at their tiniest that is the most important. Though they chatter of trivial things, disciplinary impressions at this earliest age are the deepest and most lasting.

The Mental Health Association, which as far as I know has never protested the generating of nervousness in weak or sensitive minds by means of nightmare ghoulish horrors in movies, etc., asserts that: "Mental health is assured to those who in childhood are part of a society which values friendship based on intellectual honesty above all else."

Whereby its startling to learn that my father, interested in kids and professing a belief in fairies all his life, was intellectually dishonest.

Good-bye Santa Claus! Children today must be "grown-up" and believe only in totems.

Daylight Saving

I see that one of your correspondents has brought up the usual thread-worn complaints against daylight saving which seem to be an inevitable part of letters to the editor at this time of the year.

It would be interesting to know just how many mothers and potential mothers took the trouble to vote on the subject when they had the opportunity—probably less than 10 per cent of those eligible.

Irrespective of this, I am quite sure that parents who have proper control over their children can get them to bed and asleep at the right hour, after the first week of readjustment (don't shift workers have to sleep during the day?) if only they took the trouble to do so. Ever heard of room-darkening blinds, Mrs. Bevan?

As to arising an hour earlier, what time is more beautiful and invigorating during the summer months than the early hour of dawn. Just listen to the birds' full-throated and joyous song and they will give you the answer!

When I was overseas during the war in the U.K. the country was on DST all year with an extra hour in summer and as far as I know the inhabitants of that tough little island suffered no adverse effects as your correspondent would have us believe our poor mail and milkmen do here.

In the Welfare State

The following was published as a letter to the editor of the Daily Telegraph: Sir: It is a good budget for one of my clients. He is 32 years of age, married, able-bodied and the father of eight children, the eldest age 10.

When he is unemployed he is entitled to draw £10 10s a week, made up as follows: Unemployment benefit £3 9s, National Assistance £3 15s, Family Allowance £2 16s.

Incidentally, this sum exceeds by £3 the wages of the very efficient clerk who deals with him at the Employment Exchange.

Thanks to the Chancellor the man will, from October next, draw £11 2s each week he is unemployed, plus an insurance card credit worth (to him) 6s 4d and four free milk coupons.

Naturally he is not ambitious for a regular job, and when placed in employment which brings him in the same amount of money that he gets when he is idle, he can obey or refuse any order the boss gives him, because he is only working to suit his own convenience.

As an Employment Exchange official I try to keep him industrious during what should be his working days, but it is not easy as his record of 20 offers of employment since March, 1954, bears out.

He has not finished yet, because he can still become the father of four more children and thus, in the course of time, claim, and no doubt obtain, another £2 per week.

Yours faithfully,
EXCHANGE MANAGER,
Ministry of Labor.

Bucking the Bureaucrats

IN this era of complacency, the most cogent warnings are blithely disregarded. For example, former Assistant Secretary of the Air Force Trevor Gardner has written two articles in Look magazine citing undeniable facts to prove that the United States is losing both the air power and the missile race to the Soviet Union. Hardly anybody has paid much attention.

Perhaps more attention would have been paid if it had been known that the second Gardner article, on the missile race, was written in the hope that it would be read by President Eisenhower, and that the President would recognize in it a special, hidden meaning.

The story goes back to last November, when the President, at a meeting of the National Security Council at Camp David, again took up the reins of government after his heart attack. At the Camp David meeting, the President was briefed on the major problems confronting his administration. Gardner, together with Deputy Secretary of Defence Reuben Robertson and one or two others, was assigned to brief the President on the missile problem.

The President was told how, in mid-summer, almost certain knowledge had come into the hands of the government that the Soviets were already testing medium range missiles.

He was told how a decision had very recently been taken to start a new missile program to attempt to match the Soviet achievement in the medium range field. And the cumbersome organization of the whole missile program was described to the President.

He was told how a decision had very recently been taken to start a new missile program to attempt to match the Soviet achievement in the medium range field. And the cumbersome organization of the whole missile program was described to the President.

The President has, in fact, recognized from the first the huge significance of the evidence of Soviet success in the missile field. After the evidence became available, and while the President was vacationing in Colorado before his heart attack, Secretary of the Air Force Donald Quarles wrote a memorandum for him on the missile problem.

The Quarles memorandum took the line that the Soviet achievement was important, but not decisively important, in view of the continuing superiority of the United States in the air-atomic field. The memorandum recommended progress in the missile field with "all practicable" speed.

The President revised the memorandum with his own hand, underlining the decisive importance of the Soviet achievement, changing "all practicable" to "all possible," and assigning top priority to missile development.

Again, at the Camp David meeting, as the questions paraphrased by Gardner suggest, the President made it abundantly clear that he was deeply disturbed by our relative lack of progress in the missile field. He said that he was determined to get someone to run the missiles program the way it ought to be run, even if he had to do the job himself.

Badly Organized

Yet the President's angry questions still need answering, and as Gardner proves beyond question in his article, the missiles program is still inadequate and badly organized. It is not really being run by anyone. Why?

Gardner asks the same question in his article: "How can all this happen, many citizens will ask, when the President himself is a great general? It happens because... the communications system he relies on simply isn't working."

This is another way of saying that the built-in resistance, in the vast bureaucracy of the defence establishment, to the needed drastic change in the organization of our missile effort, has so far proved too strong for the President to buck—about as disturbing a conclusion as it is possible to imagine.

ACCURACY

Accuracy in writing for children is, believe me, every bit as important as it is in writing for adults—perhaps more so! I learnt my lesson about that very early on. I once broadcast a story about a young pigeon called Egbert, and rather carelessly referred to his brothers and sisters that hatched out at the same time. A day or two later, letters began to arrive from young listeners pointing out that a pigeon never lays more than two eggs at any one time, so Egbert could only have had one brother or one sister anyway!

—Eric Roberts, writer of children's stories.

Will J. Reid

IT'S A LONG WAY from an air-strip in Kansas City to the wilderness lakes of Vancouver Island—but the gap was bridged, in tragic fashion, one day last month.

When Will J. Reid slumped at the controls of his private aircraft on the Kansas field, victim of a sudden heart attack, all the people of British Columbia were bereaved.

Perhaps they didn't know it. Perhaps his name didn't mean too much, to many of our people, because he was a modest fellow and preferred the shadows to the stage. But his influence touched every life in this province, if only indirectly.

Mr. Reid is the man who fought the battle of Butte. Since 1932 he had been coming to Vancouver Island, to fish from his rustic log-and-shake cabins in the dark, majestic lake adjoining Strathcona Park.

He loved Butte. And when he heard that our government was going to invade the park, and dam the lake for hydro power, he decided to fight.

The government and the power boys perhaps didn't realize the measure of the man they were fighting. At first they dismissed him as an interloper; a "wealthy American who was trying to maintain a private preserve."

In time they came to respect him for what he was—a sportsman and gentleman of the highest integrity, with a lifetime record of service to the causes of conservation.

Mr. Reid's friend and associate, Harvey Harris, said the other day while up here on the sorrowful mission of cleaning up Will's Butte affairs—that Reid had spent $100,000 of his own money in his attempt to save Butte for the people of this province.

Where did the money go? Expensive hearings. Lawyer's fees. Printing of documents and conservation articles. Endless trips to bring British Columbians in to the lake, to jar them into an awareness of the tragedy unfolding here before our very eyes.

Bright's Disease; What To Do

Dr. Alvarez is Emeritus Consultant in Medicine, Mayo Clinic and Emeritus Professor of Medicine, Mayo Foundation.

Many persons ask what they can do for diseased kidneys or so-called Bright's disease. I cannot say because there are several types of kidney disease. One type comes in later years due largely to hardening of the arteries. Another type, which starts usually in childhood, commonly follows an attack of scarlet fever. This is an acute nephritis which may end up as a chronic interstitial nephritis, interstitial meaning that the inflammation is largely in the interstices (or spaces) between the tiny tubules in which the urine is formed. Another type of nephritis is called glomerular, because in this type of injury is mainly in the glomeruli or little tufts made up of capillaries. In these tufts the urine is separate from the blood.

Children get another type of kidney trouble called nephrosis. These children become dropsical and swollen, sometimes from their face to their feet. Unfortunately, the cause of this disease is not well understood and, as a result, the treatment is often unsatisfactory. But gradually experts are learning how to prolong the life of the affected child.

Another type of kidney disease, called pyelonephritis, begins often with an inflammation in the so-called pelvis of the kidney, in which the urine gathers before it goes down the ureter into the bladder.

ONCE THOUGHT FATAL

When I was a young physician, Bright's disease was supposed to be a fatal disease, and anyone who was told that he had a little albumin in his urine became much frightened. Usually, in those days, an insurance company refused to accept him as a risk. Today, we physicians know that there are all grades and types of kidney disease and that many a man with a little albumin in his urine is not in any great danger. It may mean only that he has an old scar in his kidney, a scar that will never bother him much or endanger his life. Today, with the help of tests of kidney function, the physician may be able to say to the patient, "You have kidneys that are functioning so well that we do not need to worry about them. Most of your kidney tissue is in good condition."

When the Good Lord designed man, He did much as an engineer does when he is building a skyscraper. He takes into account a factor of safety; in other words, he makes the building so strong that, if need be some day, several more stories could be added on top. He designs it, also, so that an earthquake or a tornado will not throw it down.

Who were the people opposed to him? Some politicians, and some power people—most of them eminently decent and respectable men, but with a job to do, which was to wring every last ounce of power out of every drop of water on this island. A lot of us thought, and still think, that they are wrong; that they have gone overboard in their demands for power, and that the balance will be redressed, eventually, by the people having to "buy back" their own recreation areas.

Will Reid had seen these things happen in many of the United States, and he didn't want to see it happen in Canada, to which he had many familial attachments.

He was at his best, chatting about these things in one of his cabins after a good day's fishing, the water of Butte lapping lazily on the shore at twilight.

He was an immensely attractive man, not unlike John Hart in appearance, with a wild shock of white hair and an honest outdoorsman's face. He spoke quietly, about a lot of things men like—boats, guns, flyrods, books, ducks, aircraft, oilwells and politics. While he was chatting he might slip on a glass of bourbon and roll a Bull Durham cigarette, cinching up the tag on the little sack with his teeth.

Mr. Reid told a friend, after they started to log Butte, that he would never set foot in there again. He wanted to get in his plane, with his loyal pilot "Mac," and fly into the back reaches of our province, looking for a new retreat.

It is perhaps characteristic that he should have died after flying across the country to attend a meeting of Ducks Unlimited, the conservation group of which he had been president and was now Coast director. In his will, he found that he had left $120,000 to this organization, as well as $200,000 to the Campfire Girls and $400,000 to the Boy Scouts.

Will Reid—a man among men. Some may say that he lost "the battle of Butte," but I don't believe it. He made us all aware of our heritage. He taught us how to fight. The people of British Columbia owe him a great debt.

By DR. WALTER C. ALVAREZ

Dr. Alvarez

As a factor of safety, we men and women have two kidneys, although we could get along with only half of one. Similarly, one can remove surgically six-sevenths of a dog's liver without harming him.

Some persons lose a kidney because a large kidney stone forms in it. Just why stones form, we do not always know. Sometimes, if a person has no symptoms from such a kidney stone, the urologist leaves it alone. He knows that if he takes it out, the kidney will not be able to start functioning again. Why? Because once a good kidney has had to enlarge and take over the work of a diseased kidney, it will never step down and give the extra burden back to the kidney that failed in its work.

When I was a boy, people had the idea that backache was commonly a sign of kidney disease. Today, we physicians seldom think of kidney disease when a patient comes with a backache. Nearly all the backaches are due to some arthritis of the spine, or some fibrositis in the muscles around the spine, or perhaps some undue strain in these muscles. Some of the worst of the low backaches are due to what is called a displaced intervertebral disc, which is pressing on nerves. In these cases, usually the pain runs down the sciatic nerves in the back of the thigh. Then the patient is likely to walk listed over to one side; he may have to use a cane or he may even have to take to a wheel-chair.

TREATMENTS VARY

Some persons are asking, "But what do you do for kidney trouble?" Obviously, one does different things, depending on what type of kidney trouble one has, and how much discomfort it is producing. For instance: there is one type of kidney trouble that is associated with a diabetes that has been poorly treated. In such case, one would try to get the patient to behave himself better, and not to go on a candy-eating bender every so often. In many cases in which albumin is found in the urine, the physician will not order any treatment. Commonly, the patient thinks he ought to follow the old-fashioned idea and stop eating meat. Actually, as Dr. Thomas Addis showed years ago, some of the children with nephrosis were losing in their urine each day much more albumin than they were getting in their food. As a result of this, their droop got worse and worse. Dr. Addis gave them plenty of meat, and they immediately got much better. This was logical.

Today, when a little albumin is found in their urine, some persons feel that they must stop using table salt. They are wrong; the person who needs to go without salt is the one whose ankles are swelling. If he will leave salt alone, much of this extra water will run out of him.

The Thrill That Comes Once in a Lifetime

RUSSIA RESCINDS WORKER 'FREEZE'

MOSCOW (UP)—A government decree abolished today the 16-year-old restriction on a Soviet worker's right to quit his job and work where he likes.

The decree said that from today Soviet workers are free to quit their jobs on two weeks' notice any time they want and work where they want.

Previously, all workers had to have official government permission to change their employment.

The new decree repealed the labor law enacted 16 years ago binding workers to their jobs.

Bedding Plants Pay Dividends for Care

In every city across Canada, literally millions of bedding plants are bought each year around this time. The potential beauty is tremendous, but the actual results do not always justify our expectations. Why?

One reason may be our habit of spreading a dozen little plants of snapdragon or petunia or salvia in a more or less straight line, and then leaving them to their own devices.

The dramatic effect of planting in two groups of six each is well worth the change of habit. Space between the plants needs to be varied according to their size when full grown. Success with bedding plants need not be too difficult to attain since their culture is simple. Put the plants into their growing positions as soon as possible after purchasing. A sunny situation, plenty of moisture around the roots at planting time, pinching back to induce bushiness in some kinds are also necessary factors.

Later care consists of removing flowers as they fade to induce further blossoming, and an occasional watering if the season remains dry. For something different in bedding annual effects, try nemesis, schizanthus (butterfly flower), nicotiana "Sensation," dwarf cornflower, Phlox drummondii and ageratum.

Drink-Backed Drama Draws Church Fire

OTTAWA, May 11 (BUP)—Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent said today the government was giving "serious consideration" to the action of the Dominion Drama Festival in advertising the products of the distillery which puts up prizes for the festival.

Stanley Knowles (CCF—Winnipeg North Centre) urged the prime minister in the Commons to "make it known to the Dominion Drama Festival that it cannot use the name of the Governor-General of Canada for sales promotion."

Governor-General Vincent Massey is a patron of the festival.

TORONTO (CP)—Should Canadian drama drum up business for the distillers who are keeping the theatre on its financial feet?

The United Church of Canada says no, emphatically. The Dominion Drama Festival's president disagrees, also emphatically.

The dispute arose Thursday over a letter on Dominion Drama Festival stationery noting that Calvert Distillers Ltd. donates $16,500 annually to the festival.

The letter was sent to 3,000 Canadians under the signature of David J. Ongley, festival president. Calvert, the letter said, has done much for the festival.

It asked: "But what are we doing or what can we do for Calvert in a tangible and practical way?" It answered: "... each and every friend of DDF—and their friends—when the occasion arises can remember and support Calvert."

CHURCHMAN SHOCKED

Rev. Dr. E. E. Long, secretary of the United Church general council, said it is "shocking that such sales propaganda should be issued in the name of the Dominion Drama Festival."

He demanded in a letter that Mr. Ongley retract "as far as it is in your power."

But before he left Thursday night for Sherbrooke, Que., where the festival opens next week, Mr. Ongley replied:

Bennett Predicts Sacred Majority In Sask. Election

Back From Regina In Confident Mood

Premier Bennett predicted Thursday that Social Credit would sweep Saskatchewan in the June 20 general election, but he qualified his prediction.

Noting that "over 2,000 people" attended Monday's Sacred meeting in Regina, the premier said "if that enthusiasm is any criterion, I would say (Social Credit) will have a majority."

"But," he added, "it is up to the people of Saskatchewan how they vote. They look intelligent to me," he said.

The premier spoke to the big Regina rally, along with Alberta Social Credit premier E. C. Manning and national party leader Solon Low.

"If they elect Social Credit in Saskatchewan, all the merchants will have to buy new cash registers," said the premier, "because business will increase."

Asked what contributions the B.C. organization would make to the Saskatchewan Sacred campaign, he replied "that's up to the league."

Labor Disputes 600 Miles Apart Plague B.C. Gas Pipeline Job

VANCOUVER (CP)—A strike of 50 tunnelling workers and two other disputes threaten to delay construction of British Columbia's $142,000,000 natural gas pipeline.

The 650-mile pipeline, scheduled for completion in 1958, is being built from the Peace River area in the northeastern corner of the province, near the Alberta border, to Huntington on the B.C.-Washington border, 50 miles east of Vancouver.

A crew of tunnel workers began an unofficial strike more than a week ago at Harrison Hot Springs, 85 miles east of here, as a protest over below-union-scale wages.

Bill Hunchuk, secretary of Local 168 of the Tunnel and Rock Workers' Union, said Thursday he expects other laborers and operating engineers to join the strike today. At Dawson Creek, B.C., 300 miles northwest of Edmonton, two laborers' unions have sent their fight for control of 170 workers to the provincial labor relations board for settlement.

Mr. Hunchuk says his union is certified for pipeline workers in the North and accuses Local 602 of the International Hod Carriers', Building and Common Laborers' Union of America (CLC) of raiding his organization.

The international headquarters of the hod carriers, Mr. Hunchuk continued, signed an agreement in Washington for wages lower than those required by the rock workers. Laborers now receive $1.20 an hour and drillers $1.45 against the rock workers' scale of $1.41 and $1.92 respectively.

The other dispute involves the International Brotherhood of Teamsters which claims that Northern

Free Park Sports Held to Under 18's

Recent authorization by city council for free use of enclosed city parks by amateur sports organizations was amended Thursday.

It is now stipulated that the free use rule apply only to those 18 and under. Also a charge will be made for Sunday use to compensate for overtime pay to caretakers. A fee will be charged for any use of amplifiers or floodlights.

Freightways Ltd. is using non-union drivers and trying to set up its own company-dominated union.

A company statement said the teamsters were trying to force through a "fantastic" agreement which would put them out of business. The company says its wages are 10 to 20 per cent higher than competing firms in Vancouver and Edmonton.

Ed Kennedy, secretary of the Building Trades Council in Vancouver, said Northern Freightways' drivers do not belong to a union and pipe handled by them has been declared "hot." Laborers and other workers in the Dawson Creek area are continuing to clear the right-of-way for the line, he said.

CITY COUNCIL REFUSES TO BLOCK PAMPHLETS

A recommendation that handing out of pamphlets on city streets should be illegal without police permit, was defeated by city council Thursday.

Ald. Robert Macmillan argued that any such action was "tampering with policy that borders on the Quebec scene." He said there had been no trouble here with religious or other groups giving out pamphlets.

The step was asked last week by police after complaints were made a city apartment hotel owner was forcing pamphlets on city visitors as they disembarked at the CPR wharf.

U.S. Challenges Soviet to Show Newest Weapons

WASHINGTON (AP) — Late models of United States jet planes and missiles will be displayed this month at the International Air Show in Switzerland to which the Russians have also been invited. Some officials interpret the decision to show such equipment as the F-100 supersonic fighter, the B-47 jet bomber and the Nike anti aircraft missile as a direct challenge to the Russians to risk their latest weapons in a public showing alongside those of the free world.

Halibut Fleet Ready to Start Longest Season

700 Boats Begin Fishing May 20

By DAVID ROWNTREE
Canadian Press Staff Writer
VANCOUVER (CP) — The Pacific coast halibut fleet, by-passing a strike vote, is ready to move into the rich waters off British Columbia and Alaska for what may be the longest season in 20 years.

To conserve stocks of the big, white-bellied fish, the international halibut commission sets quotas and seasons. In 1954 the season was reduced to only 28 days but fishermen nevertheless hauled in a record 71,206,000 pounds, worth $3,100,000.

QUOTA CUT

This year quotas for the two main halibut areas between Washington state and the Aleutian islands total 54,500,000 pounds.

The vanguard of the halibut fleet of 700 small fishboats and trawlers sails the middle of next week. Layovers between voyages will be enforced.

Fishermen along the coast voted in favor of the controlled season, the first since 1939, with a 92-per-cent affirmative vote.

This spring, the United Fishermen and Allied Workers' Union (Ind.) in Vancouver held a strike vote among fishermen from Washington to Alaska in an effort to enforce a minimum floor price of 24 cents a pound. The price last year was 12.98 cents.

The move met with 93-per-cent support in B.C. and Alaska but Seattle's 1,000 halibut men were only 58 per cent in favor on a second ballot and the strike was called off.

The season officially opens May 12 but the union set May 20 as the effective opening date, and says it will declare "hot" any halibut landed before that time.

SHORT AUGUST SEASON

In addition to the 54,500,000 pound quota, the two main halibut areas will be open for brief periods of about a week in August when no quotas will be enforced.

Homer Stevens, union president, said the curtailment of fishing operation will mean the catch will be of better quality and reach the market in a more even supply.

Representatives of fish-buying companies here said the longer season resulting from curtailment of fishing shouldn't affect their operations adversely.

Alex Gordon, business agent of the union, said there had been a glut of fish in the short seasons because boats returned to the grounds as soon as their catch was sold. He said prices declined to 12.98 cents last year from 20.32 cents in 1950.

Harold Christiansen, secretary of the Fishing Vessel Owners' Association, said his group is behind the union.

CBC CHURCH OF THE AIR
broadcast Sunday from 1:30 to 2 p.m. will be conducted by Archbishop Harold E. Sexton from the chapel of Queen Margaret's School, Duncan. Archbishop Sexton will give a address, and the musical portion of the service will be rendered by the girls' choir and pupils at the school.

Island Pupils Go East on Rotary Tour

Two Vancouver Island high school students are on their way to Ottawa to train to attend an "adventure in citizenship" tour sponsored by the Rotary Club.

Lorraine Wartnow, Campbell River, and Christopher Henderson, Courtenay, left Vancouver Thursday, and will be joined by other students on their way across Canada.

More than 200 students from 10 provinces will be house guests of Ottawa Rotarians during their stay in the national capital. The four-day tour of Parliament, Supreme Court, Carleton College, and the National Museum will be supplemented by nine student discussion groups, each headed by a university professor.

Sooke School Floors to Get New Linoleum, Tile Covering

SOOKE—School board of Sooke District 62 this week let a contract of $4,833 to Island Paint Distributors Ltd. for the covering of floors in five district schools.

The bid was the lowest of four submitted. Other bidders were T. Eaton Co., Island Enterprises, and the Hudson's Bay Company.

Schools concerned are Belmont and Milnes Landing High schools and Colwood, Happy Valley and Sooke Elementary schools. Roll linoleum is to be used on the floors in the classrooms and diagonal tile in the smaller rooms.

The board accepted the resignation of D. J. DeRochie as a Sooke representative, and sanctioned the appointment of Mrs. DeRochie to the position of part-time stenographer for Milnes Landing and Sooke schools.

Belmont High School graduation date was set for May 25, and Milnes Landing High will hold its graduation June 1.

May 18 was set as sports day for the two high schools and for Langford, Happy Valley, Sooke and Jordan River elementary schools.

Hitchhiker Quit Car, Missed Death

Death Driver Told Witness He Drove 90-100 Miles an Hour

NANAIMO—Thomas Lloyd Comba, North Vancouver car salesman who died in a highway crash May 2, told a witness shortly before his death that he drove at from 90 to 100 miles per hour.

Comba crashed near Bowser after skidding for more than 100 feet from one side of the road to the other, and possibly somersaulting twice.

"He was alone in the car, a hitchhiker having left him barely one-half hour previously."

Mrs. Ann H. Chalifour, owner of the Fanny Bay Inn, said at an inquest here Wednesday that Comba had called at the hotel on the morning of May 2 and drank four bottles of beer.

He returned at 6:25 p.m. with a hitchhiker who refused to go farther with him.

According to Mrs. Chalifour, Comba had told her that he drove at from 90 to 100 miles per hour in some sections of the road between Courtenay and Fanny Bay.

"Mr. Comba said he had given the hitchhiker $5 to go back to Courtenay," Mrs. Chalifour testified. "He said: 'I think I have scared him because he does not want to drive with me.'"

GRAIN

WINNIPEG (CP)—Prices were firm to higher at the close today on the Winnipeg grain exchange, reflecting advances on United States markets, and unfavorable seeding operations on parts of the Prairies due to rain.

Trading was dull as the market continued to be affected by the season's strike. Traders were hesitant to make commitments.

A few shippers orders showed in oats and barley. Some exporters and processor buying in barley was on a deferred basis. Parcel lots of flax were sold to Japan for deferred shipment.

Rye trade was local. Overnight export loadings of Canadian wheat included: Japan, 700,000 bushels; Poland, 340,000; Belgium, 265,000 and the United Kingdom, 145,000.

MARKET SUMMARIES

Algoma Tops Industrials

TORONTO (CP)—The stock market posted an irregular improvement today. Indexes of most of the major components were down, but there were sufficient gains to lift the market average.

Industrials gained up to $4 with Algoma the top winner at $105. Federal Grain sold up $2.25 on a 50-share block. Aluminum, MacMillan, Bank of Montreal, Stelco Trans-Mountain and Dominion Steel advanced about a point.

Senior base metals were dull as Consolidated Smelters lost a point and Steep Rock slipped 1/4. Hudson Bay gained 1/4 and Opeka 1/2.

Selected speculators were in demand, including Consolidated Halliwell with a 20-cent gain at $181. Mogul, Maritimes, Merrill Island, New Royan, Copper Corp., Lyndhurst and Temagami were among the higher issues with gains up to 20 cents.

Canadian Export Gas topped the advancing western oils, jumping 90 cents to $6.50. National Petroleum, Provo, Great Sweet Grass and Canadian Devonian were strong. Losers were led by Calgary and Edmonton, off 1/4.

VANCOUVER

VANCOUVER—A fairly active market with prices steady. Futures made a sale of 35,500 shares ranging in price from 50 to 60.

Bethlehem Copper traded 9,000 between $1.28 and $1.32. Pacific Nickel moved 9,500 up to 38. Quatsino sold 17,500 going to 82. Van-Tor traded 15,200 at $1.25. Silabac 8,500 at 21. Trojan moved 6,500 between 66 and 70. Utica traded 5,000 at 6.

NEW YORK

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market recovered smartly today, with prices spread over a range of around two points either way.

Among lower Canadian stocks, International Nickel dropped 1/4, McIntyre 1/4, Canadian Pacific 1/4, Dome Mines 1/4 and Walker-Gooderham 1/4. Higher were Aluminum Ltd., up 1/4, Hudson Bay Mining, up 1/4, and Distillers Seagrams, up 1/4.

On the American stock exchange lower Canadian issues included Shawinigan, down 1/4, and Sapphir Petroleum, off 1/4. Higher were Canadian Marconi, up 1/4 and Great Sweet Grass Oil, up 3/16.

LONDON

LONDON (Reuters)—The stock market was generally depressed today on news of the widening United Kingdom trade gap and the overnight setback on Wall Street. Buyers held off and profit taking took place in recent favorites.

British funds lost ground and the losses extended to 1/4. In rail, Canadian Pacific was dull. Among miscellaneous leaders, Hudson's Bay, British Aluminum, Unilever, Borax and Turner & Newall were all lower.

Gold shares were easier in small trading. Stock closings: Babcock & Wilcox 78s 6d, Bowater Paper 59s 9d, British-American Tobacco 50s 9d, British Celanese 21s 10 1/2d, Canadian Pacific 33 1/2s, General Electric 57s 6d, Gt. Univ. MONTREAL

MONTREAL (CP)—Some strong issues were evident as industrials held slightly lower levels in moderate trading today on the Montreal and Canadian stock exchanges.

In steels, Algoma gained four points and Stelco 1/4, as both issues tried to recover Thursday's sharp losses.

Aluminum and Hudson Bay each advanced a point in the base metals. Carriers and banks were generally unchanged.

Powell River slipped a point and Great Lakes 1/4 in a weaker paper group. Refining oils continued to soften as Imperial and BA both traded a point lower.

HELICOPTERS FLY SUPPLIES

STEWART, B.C. (CP)—Helicopters have been flying material and supplies to the South Leduc property owned by Jayve Explorations of Toronto.

The company holds 30 claims in an area of northwest B.C. where renewed interest in copper deposits will reach a peak this summer.

Exploration crews are moving in to the mineral-rich north, spurred by higher prices for copper.

Jayve Explorations will shortly begin a diamond-drilling program.

Plastic Pipe Widely Used In Oil Fields

CALGARY (CP)—Plastic pipe is coming into wider use in western Canadian oil fields, says James W. Minton, division manager for Smith & Stone Ltd. of Toronto.

In an address to the petroleum and natural gas division of the Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy, Mr. Minton said plastic pipe is being widely used in oil fields of the United States for transporting crude oil, salt water and natural gas.

Plastic pipelines for oil and salt water were installed last summer in western Canada and a "great many more" such installations are planned this year.

"This is not the kind of plastic that everyone knows as garden hose but the new tough materials that will take rough handling of oil field usage," he said.

Howe Sound Co. Doubles Earnings

VANCOUVER (CP)—Howe Sound Co., which operates Britannia Mining and Smelting Co. at Britannia Beach, B.C., reports net earnings for the first quarter of 1956 of $810,000.

Harold H. Sharpe, company president, said this is exactly double the net earnings for the same period last year. The increased earnings reflected a very favorable market for metals for the first quarter of this year.

However, since April 1 "there has been some weakening in foreign markets for copper, lead and zinc," he said.

GM Workers Told 'No Layoffs Here'

By NORMAN CRIBBENS, Times Business Editor
W. A. Wecker, president of General Motors of Canada, hastened to assure his employees today that there will be no production layoffs at GM plants in Canada.

Commenting on the layoff of General Motors employees in the United States, he said: "That does not apply in Canada. Far from planning any production cut, we are actually working overtime."

Only yesterday Mr. Wecker reported that output from the Oshawa plant in April hit an all-time peak for any one month, with employment at a record high.

During April General Motors of Canada turned out 25,688 cars and trucks units, beating the previous record of May, 1953, by 1,258 in a drive to catch up on production lost during the five-month strike.

In the same month Chrysler Corporation of Canada produced 11,132 passenger cars—an increase of 26.3 per cent on April, 1955.

In the United States, General Motors Corporation closed down all of its automotive assembly plants today "in order to balance production with current customer demand."

Production in all plants will be resumed Monday.

In New York today Studebaker-Packard officials are conferring on the corporation's financial problems. Conflicting reports are circulating as to the solution which will be adopted.

One report is that production of the higher-priced Packard automobile will be discontinued for the remainder of 1956 due to heavy losses on production of the Packard.

Doctors Probe Cause Of Girl's 5-Day Coma

(From The Canadian Press) NEW WESTMINSTER — Doctors here today were anxiously seeking the key to a coma which has kept a 17-year-old girl unconscious since early last Monday.

88 Charities In One Drive At Toronto

Only Two Groups
Not Participating

TORONTO (CP) — Eighty-eight charitable organizations Thursday agreed to join forces for one mighty appeal to the public for funds—the largest single drive ever attempted in Toronto.

In a meeting attended by 500 representatives of various charitable institutions, a plan for a united appeal was unanimously endorsed. Only two major organizations, the Salvation Army and the Ontario Society for Crippled Children, were not at the meeting.

Edgar G. Burton, president of Robert Simpson Ltd., said the united drive will have the advantages of better planning, reduced campaign costs and coordinating the many separate drives now staged.

The Community Chest and the Toronto chapter of the Canadian Red Cross will be in on the drive.

AFTER 25 YEARS OF SERVICE with the Royal Canadian Navy, CPO Clement Mann, 45, 841 Vernon, will retire this year. Much of his RCN service has been spent in Pacific Command ship and shore establishments, including HMCS Ontario and HMCS Naden, where he is stationed at present. During the Second World War CPO Mann served in destroyers, and was twice mentioned in despatches. A robust tenor, he is a popular concert singer and has appeared with the Gilbert and Sullivan Society.

Public Control of Radio, TV
Urged by Sask. Labor Groups

By JOHN LeBLANC, Canadian Press Staff Writer

REGINA (CP)—Public control of radio and TV is needed to prevent their being used against the public interest, Saskatchewan labor groups said today in a brief submitted to the royal commission on broadcasting.

"Only through a publicly-owned radio and television system can the best results emerge," said a joint brief of the provincial labor federations that were affiliated with the Trades and Labor Congress and the Canadian Congress of Labor before the central bodies merged in Toronto recently.

The three-man royal commission under chairman R. M. Fowler held a one-day sitting here today after sessions in Winnipeg earlier this week. The commission was to leave for Vancouver tonight.

OTHER BRIEFS RECEIVED

Apart from the labor brief, it received these other representations:

1. The Saskatchewan provincial committee of the Labor-Progressive (Communist) party said the finances of the CBC should be areas.

CBC Should Be More Soundly Financed

The labor organizations expressed the view that the CBC should own and control all networks in radio and TV.

They also objected to a proposal of the Canadian Association of Radio and Television Broadcasters, representing most private stations, for an independent regulatory body apart from the CBC.

"The creation of a separate and independent regulatory body is not required," the submission said. "Such a step would simply make more remote the connection between actual public control and the body to which duties are delegated."

The federations, whose affiliated unions have about 21,000 members, said the CBC has not acted in a despotism in carrying out government policy calling for a Canadian - angled national broadcast system. It said the CBC should be more soundly financed for carrying out of this policy. Demand for better TV programs was growing constantly and should be met by commensurate public expenditures.

They added it would be a fallacy to believe private sources could bring about development of Canadian radio and TV at no cost to Canadian listeners. The listeners would pay for service indirectly through advertising costs.

RAP COMMERCIALS TIME

The Communist party, in the second Red brief submitted to the commission since it began hearings April 30, said it strongly advocates the extension and strengthening of the CBC.

It was critical of what it termed an excessive amount of time given over to commercials on private TV stations.

The party also said immediate steps should be taken to open CBC TV stations here and in Saskatoon.

The university women, whose federation has about 7,000 members, said the federation hopes that eventually the CBC will have radio and TV networks of the cultural type of the BBC's third program.

"We do not subscribe to the brief that privately-owned radio and television will give us the programs of high quality we want," the brief said.

The brief asked that adequate funds be provided the CBC.

WANT MORE NEWS

The Saskatchewan arts board said the television system should be a matter of federal responsibility "because it is a public service."

The board asked for extension strengthened from the public treasury and that radio-TV advertising should be limited.

2. The Canadian Federation of University Women said the CBC should remain publicly owned and added private stations do not provide programs of good enough quality.

3. The Saskatchewan arts board, a government-sponsored organization for the development of the arts, said television should remain under federal responsibility because it is "too large and potent a medium to be left in the hands of individuals."

4. The school broadcasts branch of the Saskatchewan department of education urged that educational broadcasts be maintained and extended, particularly for rural areas.

of national news reports on TV coverage should be comparable to that provided on radio. It also declared more local talent should be used by broadcasting stations, both private and CBC. George R. Bothwell, owner of an advertising agency here, submitted a brief declaring no changes should be made which would in any way reduce the authority of the CBC.

Inco Metals at work in Canada

Copper is one of 14 different elements obtained from Inco ores. Inco produces over 250,000,000 pounds of copper a year. More than half of this copper goes to Canadian manufacturers. Rainspouts and hundreds of other copper products are made in Canada from Inco copper. Copper rainspouts like this one usually last longer than the buildings they are installed on.

Here's how rainspouts made from INCO COPPER help provide jobs for thousands of Canadians

Jobs are created by making the things people want. Here's how Inco copper helps provide jobs for thousands of Canadians!

- 1 At Inco, Canadian workmen mine the ore. Then they concentrate and smelt the ore, finally producing refined copper as cakes, cathodes and wire bar. About 18,000 men and women are employed by Inco in Canada.
- 2 Canadian manufacturers buy refined copper from Inco and roll it into sheets and rod. Several thousand people are employed by these companies.
- 3 Then from the copper sheets, workmen in Canadian sheet metal companies fashion copper rainspouts like this one.
- 4 Canadian contractors, employing Canadian workmen, install these rainspouts on Canadian homes.

From the ore to the ultimate consumer's product, hundreds of items like this rainspout are made from Inco copper that never leaves Canada.

These boys really know their bottles. Coke merchant, Dennis McNeill, left, holds original "pop" bottle in left hand, oldest Coke bottle in right. Ed Gudewill clutches standard Coke bottle and new innovation.

Bonny Buxom Curves Slimmed In Coke's New King-Sized Bottle

By TONY DICKASON

As a somewhat ageing bottle baby from away back, we are always alert to changes in the mixers.

This interest, thorough enough to be an avocation, today brought to light a radical switch indeed: Coca Cola is going into king-size bottles!

Approximately 2,000 cases of the king-size Coke will be distributed in Victoria on Monday by Goodwill Bottling Co., the people who put the brownish-red fluid in bottles here. Goodwill is the first of Coke's franchised bottlers in B.C. to turn out the new "jug."

The new bottle, slimmer and longer than the old hobbie skirted bottle, contains 10 ounces and sells for nine cents. The standard six-and-one-half-ounce variety will stay on the market and sell for the usual eight cents.

Why the change? Well, as Goodwill president Ed Gudewill explains it, "the new bottle is designed to quench the 'extra third' market, notably among youngsters and heavy labor workers," who absorb a lot of punishment both inside and out.

Mr. Gudewill's company has spent $25,000 in the plant, adding equipment and bottling machines to handle the new capacity bottles.

"You are in a rut" we mentioned to Dennis McNeill, Coca Cola Ltd. western representative from Calgary, here to help launch the new bottle with its message of good cheer.

As an executive of an international empire built on the genteel burp, he merely smiled. Six-bottle cartons of the new container sell for 46 cents, compared with 42 cents for the standard size.

Mr. McNeill is travelling with a special sort of case which, he assured us, should be under lock and key in a museum.

It contains the first bottle ever made to hold coke, 75 years ago. The round-bottom container was the first bottle on the market ever to hold a soft drink.

Incidentally, soft drinks are called soft drinks because they aren't as hard to take straight as hard drinks.

Frogman Spying Angers Russians

'Shameful . . . Does No Honor To Organizers' Red Papers Charge

MOSCOW (AP)—Pravda and Izvestia today broke the news to Russians of the mysterious disappearance of a British frogman and called his mission "shameful underwater espionage."

Lt.-Cmdr. Lionel Crabb, 46, disappeared April 19 while on a secret underwater mission near the spot where the Soviet cruiser Ordzhonikidze and other Russian warships were anchored in Portsmouth harbor.

The admiralty, which admitted hiring him but declined to say what he was doing, announced later he was missing and presumed dead.

The Soviet embassy in London said a skin diver, presumed to be Crabb, was signed near the Ordzhonikidze which brought Premier Bulganin and Communist party secretary Khrushchev to Britain on a goodwill tour.

Pravda, official organ of the Communist party, and Izvestia, the Soviet government newspaper, broke the news of the Crabb incident in simultaneous double-column announcements under the heading "The affair of Lionel Crabb—concerning the operation of underwater espionage against the cruiser Ordzhonikidze in Portsmouth harbor."

Pravda said "The shameful operation of underwater espionage was directed against those who came to a country on a friendly visit and does no honor to its organizers and cannot but arouse legitimate concern of the British as well as the Soviet public."

Izvestia also said that Crabb was guilty of spying.

Did Crabb Die in British-Inspired Trap?

LONDON (Reuters) — When a frogman dived into Portsmouth harbor last month on a secret mission, he may have encountered Russian frogmen operating an underwater patrol on the advice of British security chiefs.

This information was advanced Thursday by a well-informed source as Sir Anthony Eden faced a big political storm over his refusal to answer the riddle of the diver's fate.

Scotland Yard's special branch, charged with guarding Marshal Nikolai Bulganin and Nikita

Khrushchev, was on the alert to foil any attempts by anti-Communist fanatics to sabotage the cruiser Ordzhonikidze, which brought the Soviet leaders here. It is believed to have warned Russian naval and security chiefs to take precautions and suggested that the Soviet Navy's own frogmen should watch out for underwater saboteurs.

The British secret service organization thought to have planned Crabb's mission would be unaware of this because it acted without the authority of the government or any consultation.

Jaycees Support Cherry Bank Bid For Rezoning

Victoria Junior Chamber of Commerce wrote city council Thursday in support of permissive zoning to ensure continued operation here of the Cherry Bank hotel.

The hotel has been involved in a zoning wrangle since council granted special district zoning last December which enabled it to operate a public dining room.

Due to the fact the hotel already had a provincial liquor licence, nearby residents petitioned against the change and the matter was re-opened when consideration began on the 1956 proposed zoning by-law.

Recently council bowed to the weight of the objections and restored the Cherry Bank to apartment zoning in the draft by-law. Later a petition opposing the move as restraint of trade was started.

The petition now contains over 300 names and is expected to be presented at the next council meeting.

In view of the support rallying behind the hotel and the view now held by some aldermen that the re-zoning would eventually force the hotel out of business, it is indicated at city hall that the decision will be again reversed.

Council health and welfare committee chairman Ald. Mrs. Lily Wilson rose at council to defend city welfare department in regard to a published report of elderly pensioners living in starvation conditions. She said the cases referred to were under city care. An extreme case referred to was of a "forgetful" man who had been placed in a boarding home but refused to stay who had since been removed to hospital by social workers. "City welfare is doing a good job," she stated.

An invitation to the annual conference of Canadian Mayors and Municipalities at Hamilton, Ont., was referred to Mayor Percy Scurrell, who was absent Thursday, for report back to council.

Council was advised Oak Bay municipality is planning to enter a float in Victoria Day parade. Esquimalt wrote that municipality would not. No answer was received to a similar query of Saanich.

Vancouver Island Dairymen's Association wrote asking council support of a campaign to regain free choice by the public in buying raw or pasteurized milk. The letter was referred to Union Board of Health.

A draft resolution calling on provincial government to continue to purchase city building permits before starting new construction here was approved by council and will be presented to Union of B.C. Municipality convention delegates as well as to the government. The government proposes to make such action unnecessary.

Council voted to withdraw a charge against Kiwanis Village Society of $380 for work done by the city on roads in the housing project. Finance committee had recommended settlement at $200 but council decided to drop the matter entirely on the consideration that the society had done a great deal for the community.

Land sales totalling $14,880 were approved by council. The sum was realized for sale to four parties of six lots on the north side of Montgomery avenue.

A public works recommendation that city council withdraw permission for a taxi stand at Courtenay and Government on expected retirement of the owner R. N. Penman was returned to committee for further study.

Mr. Penman had asked that the stand be permitted to remain.

Superintendent Of PGE Line Replaced

Pacific Great Eastern Railway superintendent W. A. S. Stewart has been made Vancouver passenger agent in a top-bracket shake-up on the government-owned line.

Mr. Stewart's place will be taken by Harry Nichols, former traveling superintendent of locomotives.

Railways Minister Ralph Chetwynd said of the switch: "We think we should try to sort people out to jobs they are suited to."

He said he did not consider Mr. Stewart's new job a demotion.

Asked whether further staff changes are being considered, Mr. Chetwynd said: "I suppose Mr. Nichols will make recommendations. That is up to him."

Nichols started on the PGE as an engine wiper, and worked his way up the ladder as fireman and engineer.

Lease Granted For Playground

City council Thursday granted a lease for $1 a year of a section of city property on Cameron Street to F. S. Thomas, 1142 Caledonia Avenue, for use as a playground. Mr. Thomas will be asked to take out liability insurance to protect the city from suit resulting from possible accidents.

A neighborhood playground has been constructed on the lot.

Red China Animals On Way to London Zoo

HONG KONG (Reuters) — Alligators, mandarin ducks and other rare animals from Communist China were shipped here today from Peiping for delivery to the Zoological Society of London. The Chinese Society of Zoologists sent the animals as a gift in return for four deer sent by the London society last March.

SECOND GUARD TO PATROL BEACON HILL

A second member of the Corps of Commissioners will be hired on part-time basis to patrol Beacon Hill Park city council parks committee has decided. The action was taken to combat vandalism which in one night recently caused $350 damage. This included a loss of $75 in rare birds. At first reckoning it was believed no birds had escaped when vandals cut their way into the aviary. An attempt was made to fell the park flagpole the same night.

BUSY LINES

The underground railways in London, England, have 1,500,000 customers every day.

Civil Defence Leaders Hold First Neighborhood Meeting

First of a series of neighborhood civil defence meetings was held successfully in St. Mary's Hall, Oak Bay, Wednesday night. Greater Victoria Co-ordinator Roger Peachey said today.

Invitations to householders to attend were made through personal contact of new full-time civil defence officers over the past few weeks. Similar contacts are being made in other parts of the city and the next neighborhood gathering is slated for about May 24, possibly in Victoria city.

Officers, making door-to-door inquiries in the first stage of a city-wide survey, determined about 70 per cent of citizens contacted are willing to take part in aiding a general evacuation procedure for Greater Victoria.

The remainder were uninterested or "too busy."

In the two-hour meeting Wednesday, Mr. Peachey described evacuation procedure and plans being drawn up by civil defence for survival in an emergency or nuclear attack.

General discussion between CD officers and the 31 persons attending indicated "very favorable response" the co-ordinator said.

Next meeting of civil defence control board, after this month, will be asked to approve, an over-all evacuation plan prepared over the last 15 months by Mr. Peachey and assistants.

MID-JUNE WEDDING DAY

Mr. and Mrs. Christopher Cox of Toronto, Ont., wish to announce the engagement of their daughter, Margaret Jean, to Mr. Darrell Michael Burley, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Burley, 2326 Estevan Avenue, Victoria. The wedding will take place in Metropolitan United Church on June 9, at 7.30 p.m., with Dr. F. E. H. James officiating. Matron of honor will be Mrs. J. A. Oliver, Niagara Falls, Ont., sister of the bride; bridesmaids, Miss Barbara Milne, Vancouver, and Miss Bernice Burley, sister of the groom-elect; best man, Mr. Nelson Crisp, and ushers, Mr. Brian Ruddock and Mr. Tom Rimmer.

Rodd-Jenner Vows Spoken

Tulips and narcissi decorated the Church of Our Lord for the recent wedding of Valerie Eve Cornish, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. J. Jenner, 882 Swan Street, and Dennis Gwyn Rodd, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gwyn Rodd of Maple Bay, B.C.

Rev. Rawlinson officiated and during the ceremony "The Wedding Prayer" was sung by the bride's sister, Miss Sylvia Gay Jenner, accompanied by J. Ingram Smith.

A romance blue gown in ballerina length, with strapless bodice and shrug jacket, was choice of the bride for her wedding day. The skirt was tiers of imported nylon tulle embroidered in white. A bonnet-style headdress of tulle held the embroidered shoulder-length veil in the same tone of blue. The bouquet was of white roses and white carnations. Her father gave her in marriage.

Maid of honor, Miss Cally Pearson, and bridesmaid, Miss Joan Cornish, were gowned alike in bluish pink nylon tulle and lace. They wore floral bandeaux and carried pink carnation bouquets. Peter Harvey was best man and Michael Bazzett and Mary Jenner, ushers.

A reception was held at Olde England Inn, where a three-tier cake decorated in white with clusters of pale blue roses centred the refreshment table. Alfred Bazzett, Maple Bay, B.C., proposed the bride's toast, and during the reception Miss Jenner sang "I'll Walk Beside You," accompanied by Bernie Ryall on the Hammond organ.

A honeymoon was spent motoring up-Island and in Vancouver. The bride's going-away ensemble was a green princess-style dress with green hat, white shortie coat, white accessories, and corsage of Joanne Hill roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Rodd will live in Hamilton, Ont.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

41 Is Not Too Late to Develop Your Bust

Q. "Do you think that at the age of 41 it is too late to take exercises to develop the bust?"

A. No. I have had many pupils in my classes who increased their bust measurements at even a later stage in life. If any of you readers would like these exercises send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 7.

Q. "What is the correct weight for a girl of 11 who is 5 feet, 7 inches tall?"

A. About 128 pounds.

Q. "I am a boy, 18 years old. I have a good build except for a slightly protruding abdomen. I cannot understand this because I am not overweight. I had my appendix out a few years ago and some of my friends tell me that this is the reason. Isn't there anything I can do?"

A. It may be that you were inactive for a long time after your operation. However, I think that this is probably a question of posture. You see, when you allow your abdomen to protrude the muscles become lax. You certainly are not overweight. Therefore, I suggest some exercises for the abdominal muscles and advise you concentrate on your posture. That can make all the difference in the world. Be sure to carry yourself correctly. Lift your chest and pull your abdominal muscles in. If you or any of my other readers would like to have the abdominal exercises, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 2.

Q. "Will you please tell me if I am overweight, or fat? I am 33 years old, weigh 129 pounds, dressed. My bust measures 35, waist 27 and hips 37 inches. For my build I would not want a larger bust (37 inches) to correspond with my hips. I am very conscious of standing tall and holding myself correctly but my family kids me about being fat."

A. Tell your family that they do not know their "onions." You are not overweight and your measurements are in the allowable for a lovely figure. You are right! A larger bust on a woman of your size would make you look top-heavy. I would guess that you are pleasantly curved, but do not gain any more.

Italian Influence, French Imports Seen at Summer Fashion Showing

Fashion-wise, this summer will be a season of casual femininity, greatly influenced by the Italian trend in sportswear. Victoria women saw these features at their prettiest, this afternoon, at Eaton's informal showing of summer fashions, held in the Victoria Room. Sponsored by the Victoria Kiwanians, the show emphasized the high-cut square neckline, dipping low at back, short, shoestring shoulder straps, much back interest, the empire waistline and the princess silhouette. . . all of which are highlights on the fashion scene.

A newly-arrived shipment of Italian beach accessories drew gasps of delight and recognition from the guests, many of whom had seen the pieces featured in top fashion magazines' summer pages.

Doris Usher modelled one of these, a black "Portova" sun hat, with an ensemble of black and white Roman striped poplin beach togs. The hat, designed on the "coolie" style, looked like layers of raffia petals, and was secured beneath the chin.

Several Italian imports were worn with a swimsuit by Helen Biernes. Her tall, braided straw sun-glass hat covered her eyes, and she looked out through sun-glass windows in the brim. Her wooden clog sandals had braided straw straps to match the hat and she carried a beachbag which looked as though it had been lifted right from the sea. Several sponges, colorful shells and some fish netting combined to make this a useful, as well as delightful, accessory.

Nursing Sisters, Friends in War Meet Again After Fourteen Years

It was during the Second World War, Miss Ruth McTavish (now Mrs. R. G. Pearce) was a nursing sister with the Canadian services. She was in Vancouver waiting for a posting.

Miss Phyllis Fowler, an Anzac nursing sister, came to Vancouver on her way back to Australia.

They were both billeted at Jericho Beach. They met, liked each other, and for a week chummed around together.

"We even spent a weekend in Victoria," they tell you. Then, Ruth was posted to eastern Canada and Phyllis was sent off "down under."

LETTERS A BRIDGE

That was more than 14 years ago. But the two nursing sisters have corresponded regularly ever since, and in this way have kept up the friendship formed in the war years.

In the years between Ruth McTavish gave up nursing for a home, a husband and an attractive young daughter, Elizabeth.

Miss Fowler, on the other hand, continued her career and is now in charge of an outpatient clinic with the repatriation department of her home city of Perth in Western Australia.

"It's a downtown centre where veterans of the two world wars come for treatments and then go home," the smiling Australian says. "We work a five-day week, 8 to 5. No more, no less. At 5 o'clock we close up and go home."

Perth, the capital of Western Australia, has a population of more than 800,000 and the hospital is three miles out in the suburbs. "You can see the clinic fills a big need and that we would be busy," Miss Fowler points out.

For the past 12 months, however, Miss Fowler, has not been thinking very much about outpatients in Perth. She's been on leave of absence that has taken her on a trip around the world. By boat through the Suez Canal to Egypt and Port Said, then through the Mediterranean to England.

Miss Phyllis Fowler, at left, and Mrs. R. G. Pearce, with whom she is staying at 246 Island Highway.

After staying in the British Isles for awhile, the traveler went to the Bahamas, where she spent the winter months. Then came Canada, with stopovers in Toronto and Ottawa.

"And now Victoria!" she says with a smile for Mrs. Ruth Pearce. "It's been a highlight on my itinerary from the first."

Miss Fowler goes to Vancouver on Sunday from where she will fly back to Australia. When she boards her plane she will commence her ninth flight on her world tour.

"My 12 months are up," she says wistfully. "I did try to get my leave extended to 14 months but it was no use. The answer was a loud and forceful 'no'."

Even if she is going back to Australia Phyllis Fowler's eyes are on Victoria and some day it wouldn't be too surprising if she retired in this city.

"I've got eight years to go before I receive my pension."

Pink and White Apple Blossoms Effective May Wedding Theme

St. John's Anglican Church, decorated with a profusion of pale pink and white apple blossoms and lighted by candles was the scene at the recent ceremony which united in marriage Camille Joy Cheesman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. Cheesman, 1106 Newport avenue, with Philip Granger Thomas, Vancouver, son of Mr. and Mrs. Durward Thomas, Saskatoon.

Canon George Biddle conducted the double-ring service for the young couple. The bride's father gave her in marriage. During signing of the register, "O Lord Most Holy" was sung by Mrs. Ruth Champion. Organist, Frederick Chubb, played "O Perfect Love" and the "Twenty-Third Psalm." Pews were marked by little clusters of apple blossoms.

The dark-haired bride was lovely in an imported white frothy creation of silk chiffon, re-embroidered lace and French illusion over satin. The full, alternately-tiered skirt cascaded into a train and the fitted bodice had a square neckline and tiny embroidered sleeves, with matching mittens. A seed pearl tiara held her fingertip veil of French illusion and her only jewelry was a string of pearls, a gift from the groom. She carried a white prayer book crested with lily of the valley, rosebuds, and stephanotis.

Four bridesmaids, Miss Faye Johnson, Regina; Mrs. K. Cheesman, Winnipeg; Mrs. A. Simmons and Miss Valerie Cadillac wore dresses of apple blossom pink brocade, sheath style, with full nylon overskirts and matching boleros. They wore large picture hats of pink nylon with apple blossom spray trim, and carried nylon muffs showered with sweet peas, bridal spray, forget-me-nots and lily of the valley.

Little Miss Carol Tucker, as flower girl, wore a full-length dress of pink nylon, made with full skirt, pink lace trim and blue velvet sash. She wore a pink headband and carried a basket of sweet peas, bridal spray and forget-me-nots.

A Simmons was best man and ushers were D. Cheesman, Winnipeg, F. Hill and H. Hemming. A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents where Mrs. Champion sang "I Love You Truly," accompanied by Mrs. George Clark. A white, handmade lace cloth covered the bride's table, which was centred by a four-tier wedding cake decorated in apple blossom design and topped with an urn containing fresh apple blossoms. The same motif was carried out in the tall white tapers, alight in silver candelabra. Toast was proposed by George Lavers.

For travelling on honeymoon, the bride donned an avocado green boucle suit with champagne-toned accessories. Her large panama hat was lemon-toned and she wore a corsage of yellow orchids.

After a month's honeymoon in California, the couple will make their home at Suite 203, Burton Apartments, Vancouver.

Don't Tell Gossips What You Don't Want Repeated

By ELIZABETH B. HURLOCK, PhD

When a person cannot keep silent about things that should not be talked about, the only solution is to avoid telling him things that should not be repeated.

Hurlock

(Q) "My mother is one of those people who talks and talks and talks. She doesn't mean to tell things told her in confidence, I am sure, but they just slip out. I am the victim of this now. Whenever I come home from a date, Mom asks me what we did, what the boy said to me, etc. The next thing I know, the neighbors know all about it. This wouldn't be so bad if it weren't for the fact that they gossip and before the story finishes its rounds, it can't be recognized as what I told my mother. The worst thing is that some of the boys I go with hear what I am supposed to have said about dates and now they don't ask me for dates any more. How can I make my mother see how harmful this talking is to me?" —C.E.

(A) If your mother is one of those people who likes to talk and who does not use discretion in what she talks about, I doubt very much if you can reform her. The habit of gossiping is too firmly established by now to break up in time to save you from future embarrassments and troubles.

The only safe solution to your problem is to hold your tongue. When your mother starts to cross-question you about a date, be non-committal in your answers. Say you "had fun," you "went to a movie which was very good," or you "danced." Then let it go at that.

Even if she did talk to neighbors and friends about what you did on dates it would do no real harm. The harmful thing is to permit her to talk about what the boys said to you. If it got back to them that your mother had told friends they took you out on dates, there would be no harm done.

On the other hand, if they heard a garbled version of what they were supposed to have said to you, they would naturally be furious and refuse to ask you for further dates. You have already had a taste of what gossip can do so don't let it happen in the future.

VICTORIA'S NO DIFFERENT

It's All Just Fun Mayor Tells Prairies

WINNIPEG (CP) — Mayor P. B. Scurrah of Victoria Thursday pricked the myth about British Columbia's capital city. Tea and crumpets, top hats and cricket—standbys for lampooning cartoons of Victoria—were paraded down main street here but Mr. Scurrah says it's all fantasy.

"We did have all these things and characters at one time—40 years ago when I first went there from Ontario," he said, "but now we are no different from anyone else, and that's what we want to show you."

Twenty-five members of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce arrived in Winnipeg dressed in costumes Victorians are presumed to favor by the remainder of Canada. There was Colonel Blimpieigh, plus fours and soda siphon, leading the parade.

He's virtually extinct on "the Island," said Mayor Scurrah.

Then Mr. L. B. Wicket, alias Harry Harrod, of the cricket club, in red-striped blazer and 1912 cap explained he only played cricket "for fun."

"We're not the stick-in-the-mud people believe," Mr. Harrod said. That's a major reason for the prairie tour by the party to disprove this fallacy. He is an ex-Winnipegger who left for the milder climate in 1946.

He explained why it's foolish to believe Victorians are Victorian—they're nearly all imports from Winnipeg, Ottawa, Edmonton and other cities.

Flowers from B.C., balloons and candy bars were distributed by the "goodwill ambassadors" to youngsters in the Shrine Crippled Children's Hospital in Winnipeg.

The group continued to make a hit with western people. Newspapers and television photographed their arrival in Winnipeg and two radio stations made broadcasts.

They were feted by the Bank of Montreal at a dinner at the Manitoba Club.

At Saskatoon, previous stop on their tour, the "typical" Victorian-clad delegation was described by John Fisher, executive director of the Canadian Tourist Association, as "original, clever, refreshing and an example for the rest of Canada."

Begin Tour of Russia

LONDON (Reuters)—A group of 29 American farmers and stock breeders arrived in Leningrad Thursday, Moscow radio reported. Visiting the Soviet Union as tourists, they spent the day sight-seeing.

Premier Keeps Silent On Alaska Corridor

Premier Bennett Thursday declined to comment "at this time" on the renewed interest in Canada's possible acquisition of corridors across the Alaska Panhandle.

"I wouldn't want to discuss it right now," said the premier. In Ottawa, meanwhile, External Affairs Minister Lester Pearson said the Panhandle question is very important and should be given careful consideration.

However, he told the Commons, he has no "firm idea" what the first step should be. Mr. Pearson was replying to James Aubrey Simmons, L. Yukon, who asked whether the first step might not be formation of an international committee comprising persons who know the region.

Major-General G. R. Pearkes, VC, PC, Esquimalt-Saanich, asked whether subject of the Panhandle will be discussed by senior officials of the external affairs department and the Alaska delegate to the U.S. Congress now visiting Ottawa. He also suggested Skagway, Alaska, might be made a free port.

Mr. Pearson said the Alaska delegate is visiting Ottawa informally and unofficially, and there is no question of any official discussions. Any such talks would be with the U.S. government. Premier Bennett said he plans a trip to Alaska, possibly in the fall, to return a visit to Victoria by Alaska governor Frank Heinzelman.

"If plans can be arranged, I will go," said the premier. But he left the way open for a postponement until next spring.

15 CWAC Members Attend Summer Camps

About 15 members of Victoria's 25 Militia Group, CWAC, are expected to be among more than 1,000 militia women attending five summer camps in Canadian army commands this year.

Western Command camp will be held from Aug. 19 to Sept. 1 at Vernon, with Capt. Kay Trudale, Edmonton, in command. The CWAC has increased in strength from 1,600 to more than 2,200 within the last year. This summer's expected camp attendance is an increase of about 100 over last year, army headquarters said.

Qualified CWAC personnel, officers and non-commissioned officers of the regular army will instruct in basic training and "qualifying" courses for NCOs and officer cadets.

Britain Buying More Australian Wheat

LONDON (Reuters)—Britain may import more wheat from Australia this year than last year. Agriculture Minister Derrick Heathcote-Armory told the House of Commons Thursday. "Exports of wheat from Australia to the United Kingdom increased by nearly 200,000 tons in 1955, as compared with 1954," he said, "and I do not exclude the possibility of some further increase this year."

Tax Stamps Everywhere In Brazil

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP) — In Brazil you see tax stamps everywhere. Buy a coat hanger and there's a tax stamp on it. It's illegal to wear new shoes if there's no tax stamp on the soles. There are stamps on beer bottle caps and on match boxes and tables and lamps. Write a letter to the government to complain about tax stamps. It won't get anywhere unless there's a stamp on it—not only on the envelope, but on the letter.

The stamps amount for more than 40 per cent of the government's ordinary revenue. Stamps are needed on so many things that you have to stand in line to get them. The sticker on the stamp is no good so they have to be glued, and each one has to be cancelled by writing your name and the date across the front.

You can complain to the government about your boss without a stamp. The law specifically provides that petitions to labor courts need not be stamped.

Wade Stays With Rams

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Quarterback Billy Wade was safely in the fold of Los Angeles Rams football squad Thursday, signed for 1956.

The development, said the club, should end speculation that the former Vanderbilt star might leave the Rams and play in Canada, or be used as an expensive talent for trading purposes.

Regular quarterback Norm Van Brocklin and rookie signal caller Rudy Bukich also are signed.

It will be held in a 2,400-acre park in Warwickshire, Aug. 1-12, 1957. The meeting will be called "Jim" because there will be three events—the jamboree, Indaba and Rover Moot. Indaba is a meeting of leaders from all parts of the world.

The B.C. Yukon section has been allotted in the national contingent 109 Scouts and 12 Scouters.

New Theories On Origin of Name Manitoba

WINNIPEG (CP) — Where did the province of Manitoba get its name?

No one knows for sure, but two theories are advanced in a new publication issued by the Manitoba Historical Society to make the province's history lively and understandable to students.

One theory says the name Manitoba came from the Cree or Ojibwa language. The other idea claims the name was originally an Assiniboine Indian name.

Man-Made Bubble On Moon Visioned

By JAMES D. WHITE

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Human colonies on the moon and nearby planets may be established within 200 years, an internationally-known rocket expert says.

Man will build a bubble on the moon of plastic or glass, and the fantastic heat expected from friction when a space-ship enters the earth's atmosphere, become the first expeditionary headquarters for the exploration of space, says Dr. Kraft Ehrhike, former German V-2 rocket propulsion expert now with Convair Corporation in San Diego, Calif. He addressed a joint meeting of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers and the Institute of Aeronautical Sciences here Thursday night.

POSSIBLE THIS GENERATION

He did not predict when the moon-bubble would be built. However, G. E. Cooper, research pilot of the national advisory committee on aeronautics and chairman of the Institute of Aeronautical Sciences, said: "I think that space travel can be accomplished within our generation assuming there is sufficient demand for such flights."

TV Booth at Fair Captivates 'Hams'

By PHIL LEE

The amateur philosopher and tyro psychiatrist will find the hidden television camera in the Humber furniture booth at the Victoria Industrial and Agriculture Exhibition in the arena a bottomless well of humor and reflections upon vanity.

Of all the booths, this, possibly is the exhibition's most entertaining as the unsuspecting pause before a mirror to primp their hair, adjust their stockings, comb their locks or give their teeth critical inspection only to discover, with a shock, that their image is appearing on four television screens simultaneously.

Reaction is almost universal, whether the subject is young or old, male or female... a swift attempt to regain dignity, to show one's best after ego, the one for show. For, as it is written in Ecclesiastes, "Vanity, Vanity... all is Vanity."

The mirror which conceals the camera is part of Humber's black and white furniture display and was installed Wednesday by Vince Mielen, president of the Victoria Chapter of Radio Electronics Technicians Association and manager of Tele-Tech Services Ltd.

In addition to its normal attraction possibilities the TV setup is to demonstrate the instructional uses of television in industry.

"My gosh! What a gruesome face," is the average remark of a person catching sight of himself in the TV screen, or an embarrassed, "Well, I guess I've made my TV debut."

Teen-agers, especially girls, are observed to be the most ardent primpers. Before they discover themselves on the screen they spend as long as two or three minutes grimacing, hair-adjusting and so on. The boys, however, are just about on a par. Long combs were much in evidence as they carefully arranged their duck-tails and noted the creases (for lack of same) in their stride pants.

The older men and women appeared content with drawing themselves up to better postures and each, it seemed, knew which was the "good" side of their face and carefully, even skillfully, managed to get that side on the screen for the viewing public.

Or, as one of the onlookers was overheard to remark, "Golly, there seems to be a little bit of ham in everyone."

Automatic Parachute For RCAF

OTTAWA (CP) — Air Marshal C.R. Slemmon, chief of the air staff, said Thursday night the air force is developing a parachute that will open automatically at 10,000 feet.

The RCAF's CF-100 jet fighters are effective at about 40,000 feet—30,000 feet higher than recommended bail-out altitude. Their crew members now must wait until they drop to 10,000 feet before pulling the rip-cord.

Air Marshal Slemmon, who addressed a meeting of Ottawa branch of the Manitoba University Alumni Association, was asked how the fliers know when to pull the rip-cord.

"They know how high they are when they bail out," he said, "and how long it will take them to get down to about 10,000 feet."

"But we have given that a lot of thought, too," he added, "and we have had to work on a parachute which will open at 10,000 feet—for cases where the pilot or navigator is hurt and can't judge the distance. We are making them."

"Such bail-outs are rare and getting rarer," he added.

He said that despite developments in guided missiles Canada will always need some men to man fighters in the air.

The historic Iroquois Indian village of Hochelaga on the island of Montreal had more than 3,000 inhabitants in 1535.

ESKIMO ART TO BE SHOWN HERE

Lent by the National Art Gallery, Ottawa, a group of Eskimo carvings will be on display at the Folk Festival here, May 19 and 21. Great care in detail has gone into the carving pictured. The graceful curves of the braided hair that falls over the woman's shoulders, soften the strong, primitive lines of the body. (Photo National Film Board.)

City Folk Festival Set for May 19, 21

The handicrafts of 15 different nations, virile Eskimo carvings and songs and dances from almost every part of Europe will be among the attractions at the Fourth Annual Folk Festival here May 19 and 21.

The festival will be staged in the auditorium of Central Junior High School, two different programs being presented on each of the two days.

An Estonian dance team will be coming from Vancouver, while the dances of Scandinavia will be presented by members of the Lake Cowichan Scandinavian Club.

French and Italian folk songs will be sung by Mrs. W. G. Black of Vancouver, a German choir and a Finnish singing group will perform and Adele Gault will present songs in Spanish.

A feature attraction will be the display of Eskimo carvings lent for the occasion by the National Art Gallery through the department of northern affairs, Ottawa, and arranged by Colin Graham, M.A., curator of the Arts Centre of Greater Victoria.

The handicraft exhibits will contain master craftsmanship in wood carvings, ceramics, embroidery, needlecraft, weaving and knitting, each characteristic of the country of their origin.

The festival is sponsored by the Canadian Folk Society, Victoria branch.

Romania Reds Fire Second High Official

VIENNA (AP)—Radio Bucharest said Thursday night that Alexandru Birladeanu has been fired as deputy premier of Communist Romania. Birladeanu is the second Romanian deputy premier to be ousted this week. The removal of Dimitrie Peterescu was announced Monday. The ousters apparently are part of a wave of purges in the Soviet satellites since the start of the Russian campaign to downgrade Stalin.

Metropolitan Park Plan Urged

An extended parks and recreation system can never cater properly to the needs of the area until established on a Greater Victoria basis, city parks administrator W. H. Warren said Thursday.

He suggested to the Rotary club here that the newly-formed Capital Improvement District Commission may help spark such an organization.

Mr. Warren said the city had been urged for years to organize a recreational department to help curb juvenile delinquency. He suggested that when this is considered, it should be for Greater Victoria as a whole.

NOT ENOUGH SPACE

The administrator said Victoria has not enough park play space. Standard is 10 acres per 1,000 population. For Victoria this would mean 550 acres "or looking ahead to 1981 when our population should be 72,000, it should be 710 acres. Actually we have only 303 acres in the city."

Small community parks, such as in Victoria, increased operating costs because of concentrated wear and tear.

Victoria Daily Times 31
FRIDAY, MAY 11, 1956

"Our 36 parks averaging less than three acres are too small and are over-used. This sky rockets maintenance costs," he said.

Patients from the Veterans' Hospital and kiddies from the Protestant orphanage will be guests of Victoria Industrial Exhibition at the arena and curling rink this afternoon.

The kiddies will be given free rides on the midway with bottles of pop and hotdogs.

By closing time Thursday 48,750 Victorians had seen the exhibition. Yesterday's attendance figure was 18,600.

The door prize, a handsome refrigerator, was won by Peter L. Goddard, of 768 Halliburton road, Royal Oak. A TV set will be awarded tonight.

Saturday is children's day. The midway opens at 10 a.m. and from then until 4 p.m. all rides and shows will be priced at 10 cents. The exhibition will open as usual at 2 p.m.

The week-long fair will reach its climax Saturday with the crowning of "Miss Victoria" in the arena at 9 p.m.

"We expect the biggest attendance of the week on Saturday," Frank Mannix, Jaycee publicity chairman, said today. "We still hope to reach our target of 90,000 for the week."

$50,000 FIRE DAMAGE AT B.C. OIL TANK FARM

WILLIAMS LAKE, B.C. (CP) — Damage was estimated at $50,000 today as battling volunteer firemen kept an oil tank farm blaze confined amid thousands of gallons of volatile fuel.

The 20 volunteers confined the blaze to the office and warehouse of Standard Oil Ltd., and part of the British-American Oil Co. Ltd. agency.

The wrecked Standard agency is surrounded by four 12,000-gallon tanks and one of 16,000-gallon capacity. All were afire at some time during the blaze. They contain gasoline, diesel fuel and furnace fuel.

Liberal 'Experts' Fail CCF'er Knowles

OTTAWA (CP) — Stanley Knowles, ardent CCF student of parliamentary rules, Thursday used the actions and words of four prominent Liberals as the main bulwark of his arguments in a procedural fight with the Liberal government on the pipeline issue.

He leaned on former prime minister Mackenzie King, Commons Speaker Rene Beaudin, Finance Minister Harris and Hon. J. L. Isley, former finance minister.

The nimble-witted member for Winnipeg North Centre, in his element with a stack of rule books and precedents on his desk and a procedural battle raging around him, said "one could hardly find better authority" than this "company of the elect."

He described the late Mr. King as "that master of parliamentary finesse" who was very astute about procedure and took no chances that the Commons might block any

U.K. COAL BOARD FIRES 1,000 GO-SLOW MINERS

CARDIFF, Wales (Reuters)—One thousand go-slow Welsh miners will be fired today because of their long record of indiscipline in two collieries in Swansea Valley.

The National Coal Board, which runs Britain's state-owned mines, has decided to close down and dismantle the pits, which operated at a £405,000 loss last year. The pits will stop work May 26.

The men went back to work only Thursday after being on strike since April 24 following the dismissal of two men alleged to have "gone slow."

Bonner Promises Full Riot Probe

Oakalla Will Be Maximum Security Prison on Completion of Haney Project

Attorney-General Robert Bonner has ordered a complete report on Monday's incident at Oakalla Prison Farm in which a guard's life was threatened by three desperate prisoners.

Mr. Bonner returned to his office today following a high-way safety conference in the east.

Mr. Bonner said that if the report contains recommendations to be followed to prevent such an incident occurring in future, "they will be announced."

Investigation of the disturbance has been started at Oakalla by deputy attorney-general Alan Maclean.

Mr. Maclean Thursday night interviewed a city detective whose name police would not disclose.

AT PRISON TODAY

He went to Oakalla today to talk to other persons involved in the disturbance, in which guard Ernie Loveless was bound and his life threatened with a straight razor.

It was not known if the deputy attorney-general would take the action to revoke the licence to the three convicts. Robert Tremblay and Marcel Frenette now are held in death cells for maximum security and Charles Talbot has been moved to another cell in the west wing where the disturbance occurred.

The three prisoners, sentenced to 20 years' imprisonment for their part in the beating of drug peddler Thomas Kinna at False Creek Flats, held Loveless for six hours, with a razor at his throat, until fast-talking prison officials and newspaper editor Bruce Larsen bargained for his freedom.

The trio were seeking a review of their case, which was promised by Mr. Maclean as part of the bargain.

Mr. Bonner said he would not discuss the possibility of criminal charges being laid against the three prisoners as a result of the incident. But he said laying of any charges "would be the responsibility of this department."

He said Oakalla prison will be turned into a maximum security prison with the completion of the new Haney correctional institution early in 1957.

H-Bomb Jet Crashes In England

SHOREHAM, England (AP) — A four-engine Vickers Valiant jet, Britain's new H-bomb carrier, crashed near this coastal town today. Three of its four crew members were reported missing and believed dead.

Police said the co-pilot, who was not identified by name, parachuted from the plane and was taken to a hospital. Six persons on the ground were slightly injured by flying debris.

The Vickers Valiant is one of the RAF's hush-hush "V" planes designed to pack a nuclear wallop in wartime.

The ministry of supply, which has authority over the plane, said in London its only information was that a Valiant had crashed.

Strike Slows Grain Flow

By British United Press

A mushrooming seamen's strike slowly began crippling Canada's vital Great Lakes shipping fleet today while federal mediator H. Carl Goldenberg pleaded with the companies and unions to "re-assess their positions."

Nearly half of some 60 ships operated by two firms bobbed at their berths in a 1,000-mile area between Montreal and the Lakehead while their crews waited ashore for developments. Grain-handling officials worried that elevators already two-thirds full with 50 million bushels of grain soon would become jammed and grain brought to them by rail would have to be dumped outside.

BROADLOOMED LUXURY FOR PETS COSTS $1,500

Some Gay Dogs (Two-Legged) Could Use Doghouse Like This

By BILL SILLANPAA

Canadian Press Correspondent

SUDBURY (CP)—"I love my dogs," says John Clemens, 41, hugging in turn his three tawny Afghan hounds. It's one of the understated statements of the year.

Behind his home workmen are building a three-story dog house. When finished, it will have broadloom rugs, ventilating system, hermetically controlled heating, chandelier and bed.

"I don't want to change their environment too much," said Clemens.

Each of the three storeys is eight feet high. Why? Because the rooms in Mr. Clemens's apartment are eight feet high. He says:

"I'm going to put all my old furniture in the dog house. They've grown up with it and helped to ruin some of it. And I'm getting new furniture for myself."

Mr. Clemens said he is forced into building the canine retreat by city dog-control-by-laws which curb his hounds' freedom. He says they're a long-limbed, wanderlusting breed, and need plenty of space.

"My dogs have always had the run of my three-story building," Mr. Clemens said. "They're used to going up and down the stairs."

A stairway leads from one storey to the next in the giant dog house.

Mr. Clemens, who said he won $500,000 in a recent Supreme Court of Ontario battle over ownership of some International Nickel Company shares, estimates his dogs' home will cost about $1,500.

The frame dog house is eight feet by 12 feet, and 28 feet, seven inches high. It will be covered with siding and insulated with rock wool. The interior will be of insulating wall-board.

An electric exhaust ventilating system will draw warm air out through a vent in the roof. An electric heater with thermostat will supply the comforts of an apartment.

Bathroom facilities will be provided.

"It's the dog house to end all dog houses," exulted Mr. Clemens.

KNOW YOUR TEACHER

In the belief that parents of children attending schools in the Greater Victoria area are interested in knowing about personalities of the teachers who educate them, The Times continues a series on "Know Your Teacher." The articles will appear three times a week. The Teachers' Association is co-operating.

With nearly 40 years of teaching to her credit, Miss Ella Cameron, head of Victoria High School mathematics department, retires this year leaving a living monument of successful students at home and abroad.

Like Principal Harry Dee, Miss Cameron has been 29 years at Victoria High, longer than any other teacher on the staff.

The greatest highlight of her career is the success of Victoria High students, a tribute to the excellence of instruction offered.

She was born in Brandon, Man., but was raised and educated in Vancouver, taking Normal School training after high school. Miss Cameron also attended University of British Columbia before commencing her life's work in education in a one-room school in the Fraser Valley near Aldergrove.

Returning to UBC, she obtained her BA degree, then taught six months in Vancouver elementary schools. Miss Cameron moved to Bridgeport High, then went to Chilliwack, where she taught three years.

Moving on to the Kootenay country, she taught school at Nelson for a while and from 1924-27 took a post at Nanaimo. She has been at Victoria High since then.

While her favorite subject is mathematics she has been always strongly interested in the theatre and earlier in her career would stay after school with pupils dramatically inclined to help them produce plays.

Travel, too, captured her imagination and before the Second World War she had made two trips to Europe and visited Hawaii.

Miss Cameron's only other duty on the school staff is sponsorship of the scholarship program, and she urges students to go in for scholarship-winning work.

The modest, quiet-spoken but assured woman has little time for hobbies since many of her evenings are taken up in paper-marking, but she enjoys reading and is very fond of the outdoors.

A quiet walk in the woods is one of her most enjoyable pastimes, and after school closing next month she will have plenty of opportunity.

Asked to comment on the students of today compared with those of a generation ago, she said:

"I think today's students are far better prepared to meet the world than those of the previous generation. And the best of the street from Beacon Hill students are still tops."

Miss Cameron lives across Park at 1030 Park Boulevard.

Moister Air Slightly Eases Forest Danger

Clouds and a few scattered rain showers have eased slightly the critical forest fire hazard building up in the coastal district, but the danger is not over.

"The woods could dry out again in a few hours," said a forest service spokesman.

The forest service today added the fire toll during the first two weeks of the 1956 forest fire season—a total of 315 fires, which cost $7,342 to extinguish.

This compares with 56 fires at this time last year, and 144 in 1954.

Thursday's cool weather cut the number of new fires reported to six, but 40 fires are still burning, under control, being patrolled by over 200 fire fighters, the majority of them employed by logging firms.

KIDNEY ACIDS Rob your Rest..

Many people never seem to get a good night's rest. They turn and toss—blame it on "nerves"—when it may be their kidneys. Healthy kidneys filter poisons and excess acids from the blood. If they fail and impurities stay in the system—disturbed rest often follows. If you don't rest well get and use Dodd's Kidney Pills. Dodd's help the kidneys so that you can rest better—and feel better.

Government Will 'Stand or Fall' On Pipeline Bill

Volunteer Firing Squads Execute Pair

POINT OF THE MOUNTAIN, Utah (AP)—Volunteer firing squads executed two men at dawn today for a murder they committed more than six years ago.

Hours before their execution, they issued a public statement saying "May our tragic lives and ending serve as a warning to all—youth and old."

The state sent Verne Alfred Braasch, 30, and Melvin Leroy Sullivan, 25, to their deaths for the Oct. 22, 1949, slaying of a Utah service station attendant—thus ending a record tenure for the two on death row at Utah state prison here.

Site of the simultaneous shootings, for which two firing squads had been practising for weeks, was the compound of the prison, which is about 20 miles south of Salt Lake City.

Under Utah practice, persons to be executed are strapped in chairs and black hoods are placed over their heads. A target is placed over their hearts. One gun in each squad contains a blank—no one knows which.

Interviewed in Winnipeg Thursday where he stopped over on his way to inspect mining developments at Red Lake, Ont., he described the natural gas pipeline issue as "a project that can't be delayed."

He did not say directly whether the federal cabinet would invoke closure, a little-used procedural motion to choke off debate, in an effort to prevent an opposition filibuster.

Meanwhile, in Ottawa, the filibuster was under way. Commons opponents of government financial aid to a private company's cross-Canada gas pipeline plan apparently are ready to use every tactical weapon in parliament's rule book in their fight.

Conservative and CCF parties Thursday threw up an unprecipitated array of procedural roadblocks, forcing four votes on the initial stage of a government measure to assist the $375,000,000 project of Trans-Canada Pipe Lines Ltd.

The Liberal majority, bolstered by Social Credit and independent members, won every vote.

But 2½ hours were spent in roll-call votes and procedural wrangling before the House took a normally routine step of ordering debate at a later date of a preliminary resolution by Trade Minister Howe. Debate is expected to start Monday.

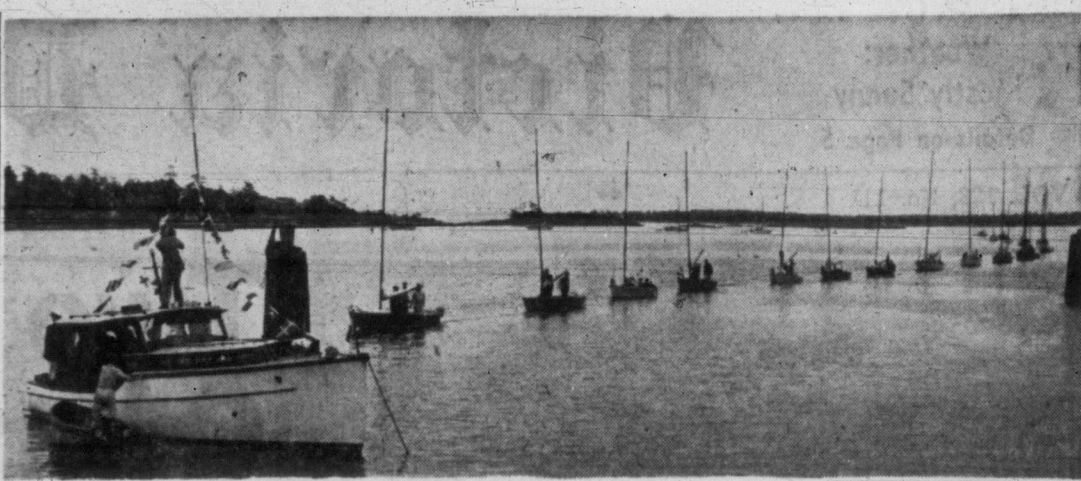

UNUSUAL TECHNICALITIES

Parliamentary observers could recall no occasion in their experience when that routine step was forced to a vote. Nor could they recall previous use of two technical delaying motions used Thursday, including one by Stanley Knowles (CCF, Winnipeg North Centre) that the Commons adjourn for the day.

First of Thursday's four votes was an opposition appeal against Speaker Rene Beaudin's ruling that Mr. Howe's resolution was in order. The Speaker was upheld 144 to 62.

Then David Fulton (PC, Kamloops) and Mr. Knowles reached deep into their arsenal of procedural weapons.

Mr. Fulton came up with a technical motion calling, in effect, for the House to skip over the resolution and deal with other business. That was lost 146 to 62.

International Regattas Top 70 Events for RVYC Members

By MONTE ROBERTS

A sail-happy member of the Royal Victoria Yacht Club could spend most of the summer afloat if he took part in all the intra-club races, international regattas and cruises scheduled for the season.

The official program, just released by the sailing committee headed by fleet captain Dr. R. H. Trythall, lists 70 events. In addition, there will be the week-long Pacific Coast Yachting Association and Pacific International Yachting Association regattas.

Cups and trophies up for competition now total 38, and 12 sets of series races are on the schedule.

And, after the summer racing is over, the sailing enthusiast can get in weekend sea time with the "Frostbite" sailers.

Among major events listed for the summer—in addition to series races, and Wednesday, Saturday and Sunday races—are:

Darcy Shoal Race, A. C. D. and Cub classes, May 27; Hein Bank Race, A. C. D. Cub, Dragons, June 3; William Head race, A. C. D. Halibut Fleet Ready to Start Longest Season

700 Boats Begin Fishing May 20

By DAVID ROWNTREE
Canadian Press Staff Writer

VANCOUVER (CP) — The Pacific coast halibut fleet, by-passing a strike vote, is ready to move into the rich waters off British Columbia and Alaska for what may be the longest season in 20 years.

To conserve stocks of the big, white-bellied fish, the international halibut commission sets quotas and seasons. In 1954 the season was reduced to only 28 days but fishermen nevertheless hauled in a record 71,206,000 pounds, worth $8,100,000.

QUOTA CUT

This year quotas for the two main halibut areas between Washington state and the Aleutian Islands total 54,500,000 pounds.

The Vanguard of the halibut fleet of 700 small fishboats and trawlers sails the middle of next week. Layovers between voyages will be enforced.

Fishermen along the coast voted in favor of the controlled season, the first since 1939, with a 92-per-cent affirmative vote.

This spring, the United Fishermen and Allied Workers' Union (Ind.) in Vancouver held a strike vote among fishermen from Washington to Alaska in an effort to enforce a minimum floor price of 24 cents a pound. The price last year was 12.98 cents.

The move met with 93-per-cent support in B.C. and Alaska but Seattle's 1,000 halibut men were only 58 per cent in favor on a second ballot and the strike was called off.

The season officially opens May 12 but the union set May 20 as the effective opening date and says it will declare "hot" any halibut landed before that time.

SHORT AUGUST SEASON

In addition to the 54,500,000-pound quota, the two main halibut areas will be open for brief periods of about a week in August when no quotas will be enforced. Homer Stevens, union president, said the curtailment of fishing operation will mean the catch will be of better quality and reach the market in a more even supply.

Representatives of fish-buying companies here said the longer season resulting from curtailment of fishing shouldn't affect their operations adversely.

Alex Gordon, business agent of the union, said there had been a glut of fish in the short seasons because boats returned to the grounds as soon as their catch was sold. He said prices declined to 12.98 cents last year from 20.32 cents in 1950.

Harold Christiansen, secretary of the Fishing Vessel Owners' Association, said his group is behind the union.

Hitchhiker Quit Car, Missed Death

Death Driver Told Witness He Drove 90-100 Miles an Hour

NANAIMO—Thomas Lloyd Comba, North Vancouver car salesman who died in a highway crash May 2, told a witness shortly before his death that he drove at from 90 to 100 miles per hour.

Comba crashed near Bowser after skidding for more than 100 feet from one side of the road to the other, and possibly somersaulting twice.

He was alone in the car, a hitchhiker having left him barely one-half hour previously.

Mrs. Ann H. Chalifour, owner of the Fanny Bay Inn, said at an inquest here Wednesday that Comba had called at the hotel on the morning of May 2 and drank four bottles of beer.

He returned at 6:25 p.m. with a hitchhiker who refused to go far with him.

According to Mrs. Chalifour, Comba had told her that he drove at from 90 to 100 miles per hour in some sections of the road between Courtenay and Fanny Bay.

"Mr. Comba said he had given the hitchhiker $5 to go back to Courtenay," Mrs. Chalifour testified. "He said: 'I think I have scared him because he does not want to drive with me.'"

Indian dancers from the mainland and the United States will participate in the Vancouver Island festival on the Songhees Reserve here on May 20 and 21, it was announced today by Percy Ross, who is in charge of organizing the big Indian pow-wow.

The festival will open at 11 a.m. on May 21 with an open-air high mass and benediction sung by Indian missionary Father J. L. Bradley.

Also included in the program is the Great Wall of China, 2,000 miles long, is thought to be the only work of man that would be visible from the moon.

PREMIER BENNETT WILL TOUR ISLAND

Premier W. A. C. Bennett will tour Vancouver Island next week on his third "look-see" trip this spring.

Island Pupils Go East on Rotary Tour

Two Vancouver Island high school students are on their way to Ottawa to train to attend an "adventure in citizenship" tour sponsored by the Rotary Club.

Lorraine Wartnow, Campbell River, and Christopher Henderson, Courtenay, left Vancouver Thursday, and will be joined by other students on their way across Canada.

More than 200 students from 10 provinces will be house guests of Ottawa Rotarians during their stay in the national capital. The four-day tour of Parliament, Supreme Court, Carleton College, and the National Museum will be supplemented by nine student discussion groups, each headed by a university professor.

GRAIN

WINNIPEG (CP)—Prices were firm to higher at the close today on the Winnipeg grain exchange, reflecting advances on United States markets, and unfavorable seeding operations on parts of the Prairies due to rain.

Trading was dull as the market continued to be affected by the season's strike. Traders were hesitant to make commitments.

A few shippers offered shown in oats and barley. Some exporter and processor buying in barley was on a deferred basis. Parcel lots of flax were sold to Japan for deferred shipment.

Rye trade was local. Overnight export loadings of Canadian wheat included: Japan 700,000 bushels, Poland 240,000, Belgium 265,000 and the United Kingdom 145,000.

On the American stock exchange lower Canadian issues included Shawinigan, down 1/4, and Sapphir Petroleum, up 1/4. Higher were Canadian Marconi, up 1/4 and Great West Grass Oil, up 3/16.

MARKET SUMMARIES

Algoma Tops Industrials

TORONTO (CP)—The stock market posted an irregular improvement today. Indexes of most of the major components were down, but there were sufficient gains to lift the market average.

Industrials gained up to $4 with Algoma the top winner at $105. Federal Grain sold up $2.25 on a 50-share block. Aluminum, MacMillan, Bank of Montreal, Stelco Trans-Mountain and Dominion Steel advanced about a point.

Senior base metals were dull as Consolidated Smelters lost a point and Steelco slipped 1/2. Hudson Bay gained 1/4 and Opekaniska 1/4.

Selected speculators were in demand, including Consolidated Halliwell with a 20-cent gain at $1.81. Mogul, Maritimes, Merrill Island, New Royston, Coppercorp, Lyndhurst and Temagami were among the higher issues with gains up to 20 cents.

Canadian Export Grain topped the advancing western oils, jumping 90 cents to $6.50. National Pete, Provo, Great Sweet Grass and Canadian Devonian were strong. Losers were led by Calgary and Edmonton, off 1/4.

Plastic Pipe Widely Used In Oil Fields

CALGARY (CP)—Plastic pipe is coming into wider use in western Canadian oil fields, says James W. Minton, division manager for Smith & Stone Ltd. of Toronto.

In an address to the petroleum and natural gas division of the Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy, Mr. Minton said plastic pipe is being widely used in oil fields of the United States for transporting crude oil, salt water and natural gas.

Plastic pipelines for oil and salt water were installed last summer in western Canada, and a "great many more" such installations are planned this year.

"This is not the kind of plastic that everyone knows as garden hose but the new tough materials that will take rough handling of oil field usage," he said.

Howe Sound Co. Doubles Earnings

VANCOUVER (CP)—Howe Sound Co., which operates Britannia Mining and Smelting Co. at Britannia Beach, B.C., reports net earnings for the first quarter of 1956 of $810,000.

Harold H. Sharpe, company president, said this is exactly double the net earnings for the same period last year. The increased earnings reflected a very favorable market for metals for the first quarter of this year.

However, since April 1 "there has been some weakening in foreign markets for copper, lead and zinc," he said.

GM Workers Told 'No Layoffs Here'

By NORMAN CRIBBENS, Times Business Editor

W. A. Wecker, president of General Motors of Canada, hastened to assure his employees today that there will be no production layoffs at GM plants in Canada.

Commenting on the layoff of General Motors employees in the United States, he said: "That does not apply in Canada. Far from planning any production cut, we are actually working overtime."

Only yesterday Mr. Wecker reported that output from the Oshawa plant in April hit an all-time peak for any one month with employment at a record high.

During April General Motors of Canada turned out 25,688 cars and trucks units, beating the previous record of May, 1953, by 1,238 in a drive to catch up on production lost during the five-month-long strike.

In the same month Chrysler Corporation of Canada produced 11,132 passenger cars—an increase of 26.3 per cent on April, 1955.

In the United States, General Motors Corporation closed down all of its automotive assembly plants today "in order to balance production with current customer demand."

Production in all plants will be resumed Monday.

In New York today Studebaker-Packard officials are conferring on the corporation's financial problems. Conflicting reports are circulating as to the solution which will be adopted.

One report is that production of the higher-priced Packard automobile will be discontinued for the remainder of 1956 due to heavy losses on production of the Packard.

Buy a coat hanger and there's a tax stamp on it. It's illegal to wear new shoes if there's no tax stamp on the soles. There are stamps on beer bottle caps and on match boxes and tables and lamps. Write a letter to the government to complain about the stamps. It's illegal to go anywhere unless there's a stamp on it—not only on the envelope, but on the letter.

The stamps account for more than 40 per cent of the government's ordinary revenue. Stamps are needed on so many things that you have to stand in line to get them. The stickum on the stamp is no good so they have to be glued, and each one has to be cancelled by writing the government and the date across the front.

You can complain to the government about your boss without a stamp. The law specifically provides that petitions to labor courts need not be stamped.

NO 'WINNER' SO PRIZE
FOR CROSSWORD $150

In more ways than one, "winner" had no connection with the Times' Crossword contestants last week with the result that the total prize for this week jumps to $150.

Clue eight across read: "There's nothing like a good ——— for putting a man in a good mood." Most entries gave the answer as "dinner" but a good dinner would not put a man whose digestion was poor in a good mood. A good ——— winner at the races though would do the trick.

Complete answer and explanation for last week's contest and a new puzzle for this week are on Page 26 today.

LONDON (UP)—The United States is consulting with its major allies on a new world economic development scheme closely resembling the Marshall plan, diplomatic sources said today.

Oakalla Will Be Maximum Security
Prison on Completion of Haney Project

Attorney-General Robert Bonner has ordered a complete report on Monday's incident at Oakalla Prison Farm in which a guard's life was threatened by three desperate prisoners.

Mr. Bonner returned to his office today following a high-way safety conference in the east.

Mr. Bonner said that if the report contains recommendations to be followed to prevent such an incident occurring in future, "they will be announced."

Investigation of the disturbance has been started at Vancouver by deputy attorney-general Alan Maclean.

Mr. Maclean Thursday night interviewed a city detective whose name police would not disclose.

He went to Oakalla today to talk to other persons involved in the disturbance, in which guard Ernie Loveless was bound and his life threatened with a straight razor.

It was not known if the deputy attorney-general would talk to the three convicts. Robert Tremblay and Marcel Frenette now are held in death cells for maximum security and Charles Talbot has been moved to another cell in the west wing where the disturbance occurred.

The three prisoners, sentenced to 20 years' imprisonment for their part in the beating of drug peddler Thomas Kinna at False Creek Flats, held Loveless for six hours, with a razor at his throat, until fast-talking prison officials and newspaper editor Bruce Larsen bargained for his freedom.

Mr. Bonner said he would not discuss the possibility of criminal charges being laid against the three prisoners as a result of the incident. But he said laying of any charges "would be the responsibility of this department."

He said Oakalla prison will be turned into a maximum security prison with the completion of the new Haney correctional institution early in 1957.

KNOW YOUR TEACHER

In the belief that parents of children attending schools in the Greater Victoria area are interested in knowing about personalities of the teachers who educate them, The Times continues a series on "Know Your Teacher." The articles will appear three times a week. The Teachers' Association is co-operating.

With nearly 40 years of teaching to her credit, Miss Ella Cameron, head of Victoria High School mathematics department, retires this year leaving a living monument of successful students at home and abroad.

Like Principal Harry Dee, Miss Cameron has been 29 years at Victoria High, longer than any other teacher on the staff.

The greatest highlight of her career is the success of Victoria High students, a tribute to the excellence of instruction offered.

She was born in Brandon, Man., but was raised and educated in Vancouver, taking Normal School training after high school. Miss Cameron also attended University of British Columbia before commencing her life's work in education in a one-room school in the Fraser Valley near Aldergrove.

Returning to UBC, she obtained her BA degree, then taught six months in Vancouver elementary schools. Miss Cameron moved to Bridgeport High, then went to Chilliwack, where she taught three years.

Moving on to the Kootenay country, she taught school at Nelson for a while and from 1924-27 took a post at Nanaimo. She has been at Victoria High since then.

While her favorite subject is mathematics she has been always strongly interested in the theatre and earlier in her career would stage after school with pupils dramatically inclined to help them produce plays.

Travel, too, captured her imagination and before the Second World War she had made two trips to Europe and visited Hawaii.

Miss Cameron's only other duty on the school staff is sponsor-

sorship of the scholarship program, and she urges students to go in for scholarship-winning work.

The modest, quiet-spoken but assured woman has little time for hobbies since many of her evenings are taken up in paper-marking, but she enjoys reading and is very fond of the outdoors.

A quiet walk in the woods is one of her most enjoyable pastimes, and after school closing next month she will have plenty of opportunity.

Asked to comment on the students of today compared with those of a generation ago, she said:

"I think today's students are far better prepared to meet the world than those of the previous generation. And the best of the street from Beacon Hill students are still tops."

Miss Cameron lives across Park at 1030 Park Boulevard.

Government Will 'Stand or Fall' On Pipeline Bill

Prudham Sums Up Liberal Policy As Opposition Moves to Fray

WINNIPEG (CP) — Mines Minister Prudham says the government "will stand or fall" on getting the controversial loan to Trans-Canada Pipe Lines Ltd. through Parliament.

Volunteer Firing Squads Execute Pair

POINT OF THE MOUNTAIN, Utah (AP) — Volunteer firing squads executed two men at dawn today for a murder they committed more than six years ago.

Hours before their execution, they issued a public statement saying "May our tragic lives and ending serve as a warning to all—young and old."

The state sent Verne Alfred Braasch, 30, and Melvin Leroy Sullivan, 25, to their deaths for the Oct. 22, 1949, slaying of a Utah service station attendant—thus ending a record tenure for the two on death row at Utah state prison here.

Site of the simultaneous shootings, for which two firing squads had been practicing for weeks, was the compound of the prison, which is about 20 miles south of Salt Lake City.

Under Utah practice, persons to be executed are strapped in chairs and black hoods are placed over their heads. A target is placed over their hearts. One gun in each squad contains a blank—no one knows which.

Interviewed in Winnipeg Thursday where he stopped over on his way to inspect mining developments at Red Lake, Ont., he described the natural gas pipeline issue as "a project that can't be delayed."

He did not say directly whether the federal cabinet would invoke closure, a little-used procedural motion to choke off debate, in an effort to prevent an opposition filibuster.

Meanwhile, in Ottawa, the filibuster was under way.

Commons opponents of government financial aid to a private company's cross-Canada gas pipeline plan apparently are ready to use every tactical weapon in parliament's rule book in their fight.

Conservative and CCF parties Thursday threw up an unprecedented array of procedural roadblocks, forcing four votes on the initial stage of a government measure to assist the $375,000,000 project of Trans-Canada Pipe Lines Ltd.

The Liberal majority, bolstered by Social Credit and independent members, won every vote.

But 24 hours were spent in roll-call votes and procedural wrangling before the House took a normally routine step of ordering debate at a later date of a preliminary resolution by Trade Minister Howe. Debate is expected to start Monday.

UNUSUAL TECHNICALITIES

Parliamentary observers could recall no occasion in their experience when that routine step was forced to a vote. Nor could they recall previous use of two technical delaying motions used Thursday, including one by Stanley Knowles (CCF, Winnipeg North Centre) that the Commons adjourn for the day.

First of Thursday's four votes was an opposition appeal against Speaker Rene Beaudoin's ruling that Mr. Howe's resolution was in order. The Speaker was upheld 144 to 62.

Then Dave Fulton (PC, Kamloops) and Mr. Knowles reached deep into their arsenal of procedural weapons. Mr. Fulton came up with a technical motion calling, in effect, for the House to skip over the resolution and deal with other business. That was lost 146 to 62.

Two Quads Die

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Only two of the Dallas quadruplets prematurely born last week are alive following the death of a second one Wednesday night.

She was Marilyn Kay Hunter, who weighed only two pounds, 11 ounces at birth, April 30. Her younger sister by a few minutes, Melanie Faye, died Tuesday.

Chemainus Ball Club Wins Game by Default

CHEMAINUS — Chemainus Red Sox, last year's Mid-Island League baseball champions, won their first start Wednesday when a scheduled game with the Nanaimo club was forfeited by the Nanaimo club and awarded to Chemainus.

League president Al Dyer awarded the game to Chemainus when it was found the Nanaimo playing field was not in condition for a game. Chemainus had previously dropped its opening two games to Alberni Athletics by scores of 6-4 and 7-3.

KIDNEY ACIDS Rob your Rest..

Many people never seem to get a good night's rest. They turn and toss—blame it on "nerves"—when it may be their kidneys. Healthy kidneys filter poisons and excess acids from the blood. If they fail and impurities stay in the system—disturbed rest often follows. If you don't rest well get and use Dodd's Kidney Pills. Dodd's help the kidneys so that you can rest better—and feel better.

'JUST TESTING THE MARKET'

Main City Buildings for Sale

Victoria council was unanimous Thursday in decision to call for bids for sale of city hall, police station, fire city hall, market building and a block of land bounded by Blanshard, Cormorant and Pandora.

Municipal manager C. C. Wyatt was authorized to expend suitable sums for advertising, which it is understood will be carried out across Canada, in hopes of attracting a buyer for the complete parcel.

The action was taken on recommendation of a special committee comprised of acting mayor Ald. W. F. Pinfold, Ald. Arthur Dowell and Ald. Robert Macmillan.

It is thought the potential sale value could reach a figure of $600,000 and thus provide

Moister Air Slightly Eases Forest Danger

Clouds and a few scattered rain showers have eased slightly the critical forest fire hazard building up in the coastal district, but the danger is not over.

"The woods could dry out again in a few hours," said a forest service spokesman.

The forest service today added the fire toll during the first two weeks of the 1956 forest fire season—a total of 315 fires, which cost $7,342 to extinguish.

This compares with 56 fires at this time last year, and 144 in 1954. Thursday's cool weather cut the number of new fires reported to six, but 40 fires are still burning, under control, being patrolled by over 200 fire fighters, the majority of them employed by logging firms.

BUSY SEASON FOR YACHTSMEN

International Regattas Top 70 Events for RVYC Members

By MONTE ROBERTS

A sail-happy member of the Royal Victoria Yacht Club could spend most of the summer afloat if he took part in all the intra-club races, international regattas and cruises scheduled for the season.

The official program, just released by the sailing committee headed by fleet captain Dr. R. H. Trythall, lists 70 events. In addition, there will be the week-long Pacific Coast Yachting Association and Pacific International Yachting Association regattas.

Cups and trophies up for competition now total 38, and 12 sets of series races are on the schedule.

And, after the summer racing is over, the sailing enthusiast can get in weekend sea-time with the "Frostbite" sail-ors.

Among major events listed for the summer—in addition to series races, and Wednesday, Saturday and Sunday races—are:

Darcy Shoal Race, A. C. D. and Cub classes, May 27; Hein Bank Race, A. C. D. Cubs, Dragons, June 3; William Head Race, A. C. D. Duke of Edinburgh trophy series, Dragons, held on this coast for the first time, July 6 and 7.

On July 21, RVYC members have been invited to enter the Lightning Class northwest district championship at Eugene, Ore.

Overnight race for A. C. D. Cubs, July 21 and 22; Royal Canadian Naval Sailing Association regatta, Esquimalt, July 28 and 29; race to Port Angeles
